

Castro Authorized to Seize All U. S. Property in Cuba

Cabinet Agrees to Payment Only if This Country Acts To Boost Sugar Purchases

BY ROBERT BERRELLEZ
Havana — Fidel Castro's cabinet today authorized him to expropriate all American property in Cuba and pay for it only if the United States buys more Cuban sugar at premium prices.

The new seizure decree, drafted by the cabinet at a session lasting beyond midnight, authorized President Osvaldo Dorticos or the prime minister to take over any property owned by U. S. companies or citizens in Cuba "when deemed necessary in the national interest."

The law also provides for expropriation of companies in which U. S. citizens may have "interest or participation." An example is the British-Dutch Shell Oil refinery whose operation along with the U. S. Esso and Texaco refineries, was taken over by the government last week.

The cabinet said the expropriation was authorized because of "the constantly aggressive attitude" of the U. S. government and particularly the authority given President Eisenhower by congress to reduce Cuba's sugar sales to the United States.

Underlining the retaliatory nature of the action, the decree pinned compensation for the seized property directly to American sugar purchases. It said the American owners would be paid in 2 percent, 30-year Cuban government bonds backed by a special fund. The fund is to come from 25 percent of the dollars paid for sugar sales to the United States in excess of 3 million tons a year and at a

King Joins in Jazz Session

Thai Monarch and Benny Goodman Appear Together

New York — Along Manhattan's chic E. Sixty-sixth street, the sound of music in the air was unmistakable: Somebody on high was belting out some of the finest vintage jazz this side of New Orleans.

Twenty-two stories up, in a penthouse roof garden, the king of Thailand and the King of Swing stood toe-to-toe for an hour, holding court with clarinet and sax.

Backed up by a group of other musicians of renown, King Bhumibol Adulyadej and Benny Goodman romped through such venerable items as "Honeysuckle Rose," "Swing Side of the Street," and "Sweet Georgia Brown."

Krupa Also Busy

Among the side men, Gene Krupa addressed the drums in frenzied fashion and Teddy Wilson coaxed wonders of delight from the ivory keys.

Nearly a hundred musicians and friends were on hand for the private royal jam session yesterday. Others would have given much to attend.

"There's a man outside with $100 and he'd like to come in," whispered a waiter as the monarchs dispensed their favors.

The affluent gentleman was waved in free in concession to his superior taste.

King Bhumibol hastened to Goodman's apartment after a ticker tape parade up lower Broadway with Queen Sirikit and a roaring welcome from 750,000 New Yorkers.

Goodman wanted the party in his apartment one floor below, but with guests and players multiplying the affair moved upstairs.

Foreign Aid Will Pay for One-Fifth Of India's Budget

New Delhi — Prime Minister Nehru's government expects foreign nations to pay just over a fifth of the $21 billion the third 5-year plan is budgeted to cost. Most of the foreign aid is to come from the United States.

The plan, unveiled yesterday, will cover the 1961-1966 period.

It aims at self-sufficiency in food grains; a 5 per cent yearly rise in the national income; an expansion of such basic industries as fuel, steel and power; a boost in employment and an equitable distribution of wealth and income.

The highest priority is given to agricultural production.

Present food grain production is 10 per cent short of basic requirements for the nation's 400 million people.

Soviet Tests Aim at Astronaut in Space

First of New Rockets Sent 8,000 Miles Over Pacific, Moscow's Statement Says

BY PRESTON GROVER
Moscow — The Russians have started their new series of long-range rocket tests to pave the way for attempts at Mars, Venus or putting a man into space.

The first of the new rockets was fired into the central Pacific yesterday, traveling some 8,000 miles "in exact accordance with the pre-set program," the Russians said.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the shot "marks the beginning of the testing of new types of powerful, multi-stage carrier rockets for space exploration." It made no mention of the rockets' military potential as an intercontinental carrier for nuclear weapons.

U. S. Holds Record
The final stage of the rocket—a dummy of the instrument or man-carrying chamber that would be used in a space probe—"reached the water surface in close proximity to the target," Tass added.

The range claimed was some 850 miles more than that reported for the rocket the Russians test-fired into the central Pacific in January.

The Soviets said that one of London.

Aneurin Bevan Dies Near London

London — Aneurin Bevan, an, deputy leader of Britain's labor party and one of the great self-made men of British public life, died today, he was 62.

Bevan underwent a major abdominal operation last Dec. 29 in a London hospital and had been confined in his rural home since leaving the hospital Feb. 14.

Although the nature of his ailment has not been disclosed officially, it was generally believed to have been cancer.

With Bevan at the end was his wife, Jennie Lee, a prominent labor party figure herself and a longtime member of parliament.

A labor party spokesman said Bevan died peacefully at 1:20 p.m. at his home west of London.

Mutiny Against Belgians

Congo Troops Want to Oust White Officers

BY LYNN HEINZERLING
Leopoldville, Congo — About 200 soldiers of the Congo army demonstrated for several hours today in front of the infant African nation's parliament building, demanding removal of all their white Belgian officers.

Other troops of the "force publique" mutinied in Thysville, 75 miles southwest of the capital, last night and imprisoned their white officers in their barracks. Negotiations were reported underway to end the defiance.

The demonstrators in Leopoldville at one point roughed up the army's Belgian commander, Gen. Emile Janssens, and seized his pistol.

Return to Barracks
They finally marched back to their barracks after speeches by Prime Minister Patrice Lumumba and other government ministers.

The demonstration was confined largely to the parliament building—the palace of the nation—and the Leopold II barracks. Otherwise life in the capital continued much as usual.

There were reports that the rebellious soldiers also want higher pay.

The Belgian radio said in Brussels Lumumba agreed to the immediate firing of Janssens after conferring with a delegation of soldiers. The premier declared also that he held Belgian officers responsible for the rioting and that they would be punished.

(The radio said regular white Belgian army troops still at their Congo bases made a brief appearance in some of Leopoldville's suburbs, but they would not intervene unless there is a specific request from Lumumba's government to help restore order.)

Arson Suspected in Fire at Two Rivers

Two Rivers — Police Chief John Brandt said Tuesday that "quite likely arson" was to blame for the $150,000 fire that burned out a downtown supermarket last Friday.

Brandt said that investigation showed no sign of forcible entry to the Stangel store. The statement added that "in excess of $2,000 was missing" from the store office and there was evidence of vandalism to stock.

The chief said he and Deputy State Fire Marshal Earl Schwabe were convinced the fire "could have burned for a considerable period before it was discovered."

Possible Trials For Witnesses At TV Inquiry

Special Grand Jury Called Into Session To Determine Action

New York — A special Manhattan grand jury begins an investigation today to determine whether criminal charges should be lodged against any witnesses for false testimony in the 1958-59 probe of rigged television quiz shows.

The grand jury was sworn yesterday at the request of Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan after an 8-month inquiry by his office.

Hogan said "a great many" of the 100-odd witnesses "are believed to have testified falsely" before the previous grand jury which probed the show rigging.

Possible Charges
The prosecutor said he will present evidence to the special grand jury so it may determine whether the crimes of perjury, subornation of perjury (inducing another person to commit perjury), obstruction of justice or conspiracy were committed.

There was no immediate indication of how many television personalities might appear before the grand jury. Contestants and quiz show staff members have been questioned in Hogan's latest investigation.

One of those questioned was Charles Van Doren, former Columbia university instructor. He admitted to Hogan he didn't tell the truth before the 1958-59 grand jury when he said he received no help on the "Twenty-One" NBC-TV show on which he won $129,000.

In an interview with Hogan, Van Doren admitted he had received both questions and answers in advance.

Van Doren later appeared before a house investigating committee in Washington and admitted he lied when he denied receiving aid.

Hogan then stated publicly that numerous other persons had lied before the Manhattan grand jury. He ordered preparation of the facts for another grand jury—the one now impaneled.

Leaves Hospital to Attend Funeral of Husband, 6 Children

Plain, Wis. — Mrs. Loraine Meister, who lived through the auto crash that killed her family, planned to leave her hospital bed today to attend funeral services for her husband and six children.

Father Raymond McAleer, pastor of St. Luke's Roman Catholic church, waived a sermon at the funeral mass with the comment:

"The totality of this thing was so great, I think there is little that could be said."

The 28-year-old Beloit woman had been a patient since last Saturday at a Reedsburg hospital where she was under U. S. policy might be in view treatment for emotional of the Fidel Castro government. She was led from the crash scene she knew that her family had been killed in the wreck—the worst in the nation during the Fourth of July holiday.

Ready for Atomic Attack

Bomb Shelters May be Hiding Arizona Sect

Benson, Ariz. — Members of a small religious sect apparently are barricaded in their sealed homes and church awaiting an atomic attack from which they expect to be the only survivors, a sheriff's officer reports.

Known as the Full Gospel Assembly, the group is believed to include about 20 families. Their homes and church are close together on the outskirts of this small southern Arizona town.

Paul Amershadian of Dorchester, Mass., hung this sign on a mannequin outside the door of the used clothing store he operates in Boston, Mass., to show his disapproval of the religious issue in the coming presidential elections. Ike Doubts Reds to Base Subs in Cuba

U. S. Would Act as It Sees Fit, if Necessary

Washington — President Eisenhower said the United States will act as it sees fit—if necessary—to protect its interests if Russia establishes a submarine base in Cuba.

He said, however, he does not regard the setting up of a Soviet submarine base as a likelihood, but such a thing is a possibility.

Eisenhower was asked at his news conference whether he agrees with a statement by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas) that the United States might look for the establishment of such a base.

The president said he was not going to make any guesses about such a possibility. Such things are always possible in this world, he said, but he doesn't see much likelihood.

As to what the United States might do in such an event, Eisenhower drew attention to the Caracas resolution for mutual defense of the western hemisphere, and to the machinery of the Organization of American States.

No Word on Cuba
Eisenhower said the OAS would no doubt come into play but that in its own interest this country might have to act as it saw fit.

Eisenhower said he did not want to talk at the moment in detail about what U. S. policy might be in view of the Fidel Castro government's new law for expropriation of American property. He said the new sugar bill.

Democrats Maneuver as Convention Draws Near

Pennsylvania, California May Prove Kingmakers in Choice Of Presidential Nominee

BY JACK BELL

Los Angeles —P— Pre-convention shakedown pointed today toward the powerful Pennsylvania and California delegations as potential kingmakers in the Democrats' selection of a presidential nominee.

Out of the din of conflicting claims from supporters of the leading candidates there appeared to be emerging a general consensus among the party press that if the two big—and potentially uncommitted—states go for the same candidate they can put about half the turn on the nominating.

But there was no assurance as platform committee sessions continued preliminary to the opening of the convention Monday that the two states could cast even a majority of the 61 votes each holds for the same candidate.

Question Chances

Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California was reported leaning toward Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.). Informed labor union sources were betting that Gov. David L. Lawrence will try to throw a majority of the divided Pennsylvania delegation behind Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.).

If Kennedy gets the support of both delegations, plus votes he may pick up from other favorite son or uncommitted states, his backers think the Massachusetts senator could make the grade on the first ballot. But Kennedy's opponents contend he can't climb

Baltimore Youth Held For Lewd Phone Calls

Baltimore —P— A teenage boy, the first person to be charged under the city's new law against lewd or annoying telephone calls, has been held for grand jury action under the "bread and butter" issues may overshadow foreign affairs in the coming campaign.

Michael J. Patak, 17, was charged with making a lewd call to a 64-year-old widow and four calls to a 17-year-old girl. The telephone company traced the calls to him.

Stevenson Has Kind Words for Rival Candidates

New York —P— Adlai E. Stevenson had kind words today for other Democratic hopefuls and called it "possible but not probable" that he would get the presidential nomination for a third time.

Stevenson, in a taped Chicago interview seen on a television show this morning, dissociated himself from a statement by a California supporter, James E. Doyle, Doyle said yesterday in Los Angeles that neither Sens. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas or John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts could get the nomination and that Stevenson has a "sufficient beachhead" of first ballot votes to win on a later ballot.

Asked if he had a similar estimate of the situation, Stevenson replied that he had no estimate.

"I have not been in touch with Mr. Doyle for, I suspect, something more than six months," the twice-defeated candidate said. "So that I am really not at all familiar with what the distribution of the ballots is, or prospects for, as Mr. Doyle would suggest, my nomination in Los Angeles. . . I perhaps should be more informed, but I am not."

Top Cattle Judge Dies of Heart Attack

Madison —P— Arthur O. Colentine, 72, emeritus associate professor of dairy husbandry at the University of Wisconsin, died Tuesday at his home of a heart attack.

He was widely known as a judge of dairy cattle and planned to judge a number of shows in Wisconsin this year. Colentine was associated with the university 49 years prior to his retirement in 1958.

U2 Protests Called By Jap Leftists

Tokyo —P— Japan's leftists today called a massive "expel U.S. bases and the U2" demonstration for Sunday at Atsugi Naval air station, 50 miles southwest of Tokyo.

Atsugi, where Gen. Douglas MacArthur landed in defeated Japan 15 years ago, bases three U2 jet planes of the kind downed over Russia May 1 on a spy mission. U. S. officials say Japan-based U2s are used only for weather observation.

Khrushchev Threatens March Across Austria

Move Into Nation Would be Made if U. S. Used Italian Rocket Bases to Hit Reds

Villach, Austria —P— Nikita Khrushchev implied today that Russian troops will march into neutral Austria if American rocket bases in Italy are used against Soviet bloc countries.

He suggested the Austrians should advise Italy "not to play with fire."

Following up his statement in Salzburg that Russia "will not remain idle if Austrian neutrality is violated," the Soviet Premier said at a luncheon given in Klagenfurt by the governor of Carinthia province.

"One cannot help becoming aware that the presence of American rockets bases in northern Italy, if they are used against the socialist-communist countries would presuppose a violation of Austrian neutrality."

Listeners concluded that Khrushchev meant that Russia would consider it had the right to march across Austria toward the Italian bases on the pretext of protecting Austrian neutrality.

"We are far from having any desire to cloud relations between Austria and Italy in any way," the Soviet premier added in a conciliatory tone.

"We ourselves are in favor of improving our relations with your southern neighbor. But Austria must not remain indifferent if foreign military bases and rocket installations are stationed on its frontiers."

The Russian premier made his threat as he suddenly cut short his tourist-like trip of the Austrian provinces to return to Vienna tonight, a day ahead of schedule. Austrian government sources said more time was needed for talks between Khrushchev and Chancellor Julius Raab.

Bread, Butter Issues May Cast Shadow

Los Angeles —P— Domestic "bread and butter" issues may overshadow foreign affairs in the coming campaign.

A canvass of the Democratic resolutions committee indicated a majority feel the voters would be intensely interested in issues relating to:

Medical care for the aged, farm aid, housing, aid to education and economically depressed areas, employment and other pocketbook proposals.

Weigh Issues

This was true, most agreed, despite public attention paid recently to the U2 plane incident, the collapse of the summit conference, the withdrawal of President Eisenhower's invitation to visit Japan and an intensification of the cold war.

The committee is meeting here in advance of the convention to weigh the pros and cons of various issues before coming to grips with the task of writing a party campaign document for presentation to the presidential nominating convention next week.

"It is difficult to dramatize foreign issues," said Carl Rice, veteran Kansas Democratic leader and a participant in many national party conventions.

Seaboard Views

But from Maine's Alton A. Lessard came the view that voters in that part of the country are more concerned about how the man in the White House handles critical foreign relations.

Both Rice and Lessard are members of the resolutions group. Generally, committee-men from inland areas stressed domestic issues more than did their seaboard colleagues—apparently reflecting greater seaboard vulnerability in case of war.

Mrs. Agnes Geelan, a North Dakota committee member, said the farm issue is tops in her part of the country. She cited apparent victory of Democratic Quentin Burdick in a special senatorial race in that state last week — a victory many Democrats credit to farmer dissatisfaction with Eisenhower administration farm policies. Burdick defeated Gov. John E. Davis, with the close outcome hinging on results of the official canvass.

Domestic Talks

At Tuesday's opening session of the committee, the domestic issues had the better of it. Committeemen debated — at times with some heat — with spokesmen of the American Farm Bureau federation and the American Medical association on their proposals for farm and medical care plans.

The Farm Bureau urged the committee to put the party on record as promising to do away from high farm price supports and crop controls — a position that would bring a party turnaround on this issue and put it in general agreement with the Eisenhower administration.

Such a course, several farm Democrats argued, would fission with being backward drive farm prices lower, create greater farm surpluses and bankrupt farmers.

Bitter Wrangle

Dr. Edward Anns of Miami, Fla., speaking for the American Medical association, cause of the likelihood that set up a bitter hour-long party would oppose the social wrangle when he urged the security method of paying for Democrats to reject proposals for medical care.

Paul Butler, Democratic national chairman, is mobbed by newsmen in the Biltmore hotel in Los Angeles just before the start of the Democratic platform committee hearings. In an appearance before the committee, Butler again denied that he has done any rigging of the convention to favor the chances of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Air Force Officer Thinks He Has Proof Japs Killed Aviatrix

Photographic Evidence, Eyewitness Reports Held as Facts of Amelia Earhart's Death

Los Angeles —P— An air officer says security officers are evaluating what he believes to be conclusive evidence that the Japanese executed aviatrix Amelia Earhart.

Miss Earhart and navigator Fred Noonan disappeared in July 1937 while crossing the Pacific on a projected round-the-world flight.

Capt. Paul Briand, Jr., said Tuesday that an air force officer has photographic evidence and affidavits from 72 eyewitnesses to the capture and execution of Miss Earhart and Noonan.

Burial Site

Briand said Capt. Joseph Gervais wrote him he had found, on the pre-war Japanese mandate island of Saipan, "the original and only burial site of Amelia Earhart and Fred Noonan."

Gervais' investigation was not an official air force inquiry. It was the second time in five days that unofficial investigators have claimed finding evidence that the Japanese killed the U. S. fliers.

Briand is author of a book titled "Daughter of the Sky" in which he offers a theory that the Americans landed far off course at Saipan and were executed to keep them from telling the world that the Japanese were secretly fortifying the island.

Execution Denied

But in Tokyo last night a former imperial navy captain said to endorse a plan of financing medical care for the aged through social security taxes.

Charging the medical problem Democrats argued, would fission with being backward in its outlook. Rep. Ray Madate, an Indiana member of the committee, said doctors are being canvassed by their "brass hats" to contribute to the Republican campaign.

Senator Kerr Renominated In Oklahoma

Oklahoma City —P— A surprising comeback by former U.S. Rep. Victor Wickersham highlighted Oklahoma's primary election Tuesday.

Sen. Robert S. Kerr and the state's five other congressmen were nominated without run-offs.

Wickersham apparently edged incumbent Toby Morris of Lawton, to win the Democratic nomination in western Oklahoma's Sixth district.

With all but three of the 655 precincts counted, Wickersham held a 563-vote lead. The unofficial tally was 40,515 to 39,952.

Kerr, seeking his third term in the senate, routed a pair of political unknowns in the Democratic primary. An unofficial count of 2,949 of 3,219 precincts gave Kerr 272,693 votes to 59,506 for Midwest City dentist Thomas C. Dunn and 20,260 for Keota rancher D. R. Condo.

Convention Has Not Been Rigged, Symington Says

Harrisburg, Pa. —P— Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, and Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania say they don't think the national convention has been rigged.

Symington made an unexpected visit to Harrisburg Tuesday to call on Jackson Boyd, Mrs. Symington's stepfather. Boyd is a patient at Harrisburg hospital.

Symington, who is seeking support from Lawrence, chairman of Pennsylvania's 81-vote convention delegation, sat with the governor during an interview. Lawrence has remained neutral in the nomination race.

Draft Rocky Move Announced Today

San Francisco —P— A news conference for disclosing details of a "draft Rockefeller" movement will be held this afternoon by a leader of the California group favoring the New York governor for the Republican Presidential nomination.

William M. Brinton, San Francisco attorney, announced the 2 p. m. news conference would be followed at 3 p. m. by a televised conference.

It was understood the movement to block Vice President Richard Nixon and draft Nelson Rockefeller would begin in at least 19 other states this week.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon will also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Nestingen Predicts Kennedy Victory By Second Ballot

Leader of Wisconsin Delegation Confidently Leaves for California

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The head of the Wisconsin delegation to the Democratic national convention departed for Los Angeles today with the confident forecast that Sen. John Kennedy will be nominated for the presidency by the second ballot.

Mayor Ivan Nestingen of Madison, head of the split delegation by virtue of the fact that the majority is composed of Kennedy - pledged delegates, echoed the forecasts of most other Kennedy backers that the nomination may come on the first ballot next Wednesday.

Nestingen said that about half of the Wisconsin delegates pledged to Sen. Hubert Humphrey—who is no longer an active candidate—will be for Kennedy on the first roll call.

Some for Stevenson

All of them will join the Kennedy campaign, he said, if Adlai Stevenson of Illinois is not seriously considered at convention time as a potential nominee.

Nestingen made it clear that he sees no prospect for any Wisconsin delegate backing for Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, conceded to be Kennedy's most challenging rival for the nomination.

The voluntary campaign for Stevenson is being directed by James Doyle, Madison, and is likely to get some backing from the free Humphrey delegates if there is any life to the effort when the convention opening roll call is taken. The Kennedy delegates are legally pledged, by the terms of their election in the spring presidential primary.

Platform Pitch

Nestingen left early to appear before the convention platform committee for the National Municipal League on behalf of greater federal aids to larger metropolitan cities, and to open up the Wisconsin headquarters in the Alexandria hotel.

More than 150 Wisconsin Democratic politicians are expected at the convention. 90 of them delegates and alternates. For the first time this year the Democrats arranged their delegation to permit one half vote for each delegate—for a total of 30 Twenty of those votes are formally bound to Kennedy, until he releases them.

Gov. Nelson also is leaving early, in part to make a pitch to the platform committee on behalf of a stronger federal subsidy program for American dairymen.

To Committee Sessions

Lt. Gov. Philleo Nash, who has been active in civil rights and minorities groups for many years, is expected to be on hand for the drafting of the civil rights plank of the party.

Principal Wisconsin member of the convention platform committee is David Rabinovitz Sheboygan labor lawyer and national committeeman-elect. Rabinovitz left for committee sessions Tuesday. He will be formally installed as a new member of the national party committee at the convention.

His committee colleague, Mrs. Vel Phillips of Milwaukee, has been named co-chairman of the convention rules committee. Originally she had been named as a platform committee member. Nestingen said Mrs. Dora Krueger of Milwaukee a Ken-

Oregon Voters Reveal Difference of Opinion

Salem, Ore., P.—When the official tally was made on offer for Republican party chairman in Oregon, it was found that 757 candidates got votes.

It was strictly a write-in contest, no names being on the ballot.

Three men made a race for the office and divided some 29,000 ballots. But 2,406 voters divided their support among 754 others.

Group Swimming Safer

Why do groups of four or five persons make an ideal swimming party? According to the Institute for Safer Living, studies indicate there are fewer drownings in a group of this size. Among larger groups, the number of fatalities tends to increase. Persons swimming alone account for nearly three times as many fatalities as two persons swimming together. In the small group each person will tend to be aware of the presence or disappearance of each of his companions.

Golden Rule Weak as Base Of Religion

Tells Nothing Of Our Universe, Rev. Wilke Says

The weakness of the golden rule as the foundation of religious faith was the subject of a sermon preached Sunday by the Rev. Carl Wilke, pastor of All Saints' Episcopal church.

Episcopalians, if asked to summarize the essence of their faith, would reply with some version of the Golden rule," the Rev. Father Wilke said.

But, he pointed out, despite not a faith. It tells us how we be true. Belief, in other words, many Christians attempts to ought to live with our neighbors, how we ought to behave. summarize christianity as being synonymous with the golden rule. "The golden rule is not Christian in origin or climate."

Long History

A negative version of the golden rule, "Do not unto others what you would not have others do unto you," was once used by a rabbi to summarize the content of Jewish law, the Rev. Father Wilke said, and occurs several times in the Old Testament scriptures.

Furthermore, other philosophers, such as Plato and Confucius expounded this rule. "Where did I come from? Why am I here? Where am I going?" the Rev. Father Wilke commented. "The golden rule cannot tell for others, and has the innate it does not describe the nature of reality, who is God. I can act only upon the discarded, but should be seen at religion at all. It is an ethic, basis of what we believe to within the framework of God."

Ultimate Questions

"It tells us absolutely nothing about the nature of the objective standard for judging human conduct. Enlightened self interest becomes the sole criterion for judging an action, and what may work to your best interest may not work to mine. What I think best for myself may not work toward the safeguarding and benefit of society," he said.

Father Wilke also pointed out that Judaeo-Christian tradition stresses that men are sinners. The golden rule makes no mention of our sinfulness, blithely assuming that every individual knows what is best for himself and has the innate ability to achieve it.

He concluded by saying that the golden rule should not be discarded, but should be seen within the framework of God.

Truck Tire Almost Hits 5 Children

Hubert — What might have been a tragedy, resulted only in a badly wrecked door when the outside dual tire on a truck owned by the Kampco company from Neenah tore loose about 11 a.m. Tuesday.

Gilbert Pethan at his garage on the corner of Highway 114 and 57 saw the semi-trailer truck brake for the highway stop. He said the tire nuts cracked loose, and the 200-pound tire careened across highway 57, jumped the curb high into the air and kept on going almost two blocks, skirting buildings until it came to a stop when it smashed into the closed garage door of the Endries Meat Market.

Five small children were playing nearby and a housewife hanging up clothes were almost in the path of the whirling tire.

Calumet County Gains $6,772 Added Revenue

Chilton — A total of $6,772 in unanticipated revenues during the first six months of business has put Calumet county in excellent financial condition, according to Roland Miller, county clerk. This amount is in excess of the amount of revenues established in the 1960 budget.

The continued ability of the departments to operate within their budgets has put the county in a position where a tax cut is highly possible for the coming year, Miller said.

Democrats and Taxes

The literal and the real meanings of the new state Democratic party platform on finance and taxation can only be understood if it is recalled that the Democratic state administration had two lucky breaks during the last year.

1. Gov. Nelson's advisory tax revision commission has delayed its report and its conclusions, far beyond the time that he said he expected it to report when he created it soon after reaching office early in 1959.

2. The state treasury last year experienced a wholly unexpected increase in tax revenues, with the result that the Democratic state administration was not required to raise taxes as it had worriedly expected during most of 1959.

The two happenings permitted the practical politicians of the party organization at their convention in Milwaukee to maintain their traditional tax stance. They remain opposed to the sales tax, in any form and for whatever purpose, they said. They believe the traditional income tax will be sufficient for their needs, as it turned out to be sufficient this year in spite of all the forecasts to the contrary.

It is hard for anyone, acquainted with the eager appetite of these men — most of them candidates or intimate associates of candidates — to condemn them for what they did. This is what is known as "practical" politics. Don't alarm or offend the voter as long as there is any way to avoid it.

But this document falls far short of statesmanship, nevertheless. At a hasty glance it could be interpreted as a repudiation of Gov. Nelson's tax revision machinery, perhaps the most constructive act of his regime. The governor did not set up this elaborate study organization and endow it so generously with money and staff if it with such prestigious men because he wanted to maintain the status quo in tax policy. Explicitly and otherwise he has made it clear that he expects to be required to face the job of fundamental tax revision. The terms in which he couched his original mandate make it clear also that he doesn't feel that the state can forever boost its income tax liability, and keep in competition with the other states of the federal union for industrial growth.

Simultaneously Gov. Nelson and other Democrats have made property tax relief almost a theme song. Anyone even casually acquainted with the fiscal facts of life in Wisconsin knows that the state cannot appreciably reduce property levies — or even stabilize them — and accommodate the steadily rising costs of governmental operations at Madison through higher income taxes. To attempt to do so would be equal to erecting a tax fence around Wisconsin borders and advertising to the world that we don't want anybody else to come here to live or to do business.

There are those Democratic leaders who know these things. James Doyle, the Madison party leader who has served thoughtfully as a member of the governor's commission, braved the wrath of the convention delegates by getting up on his feet to sound a note of caution. But there is a difference between Doyle and many other Democrats that tells the story in a line. He is not a candidate for office and he can afford the luxury of the truth.

Gov. Nelson has been accused by some of his partisan opponents of equivocation and delay on the tax revision issue. The adamant reactions of his party workers at Milwaukee explained a good deal about his ambivalent attitude. He is a creature of his own political environment. He has had the wisdom and the courage to start the process of tax revision and has in fact done more toward that goal than any of his predecessors. But he cannot yet go the whole distance, until his own party learns the facts of fiscal life as he has learned them in wrestling with state budget management and accommodating his own campaign promises of the easy years with the cruel realities of tax economics.

Conference Is Over

The collapse of the disarmament talks in Geneva, most immediately caused by the walkout of the Communist delegation, should surprise no one. The talks from the beginning have been merely efforts to stall off active disagreement, and intelligent Western participation was only from the realization that probably no one would explode a nuclear bomb if negotiations were going on. But those who thought that any real agreement could be reached, short of a miraculous change on the part of the Russians, were foggy indeed.

The whole theory of disarmament preventing war is something like the reasoning of parents who don't allow their small sons to play cowboys and Indians with toy 6-guns or bows and arrows for fear they will grow up to be bloodthirsty little monsters. It is not the presence or the ability to use a weapon that counts; it is the selfish efforts for world domination, the resentment and willingness to oppose such efforts, and sometimes hunger or demagoguery.

The appalling damage which modern weapons of war can make has led men of good will to seek ways of forcing disarmament. Men fighting with sticks and stones might wage war but they wouldn't blow up the world. But even this theory has some weaknesses in a world where men are under the influence of those who would bring tyranny and despotism.

Not a Matter for Debate

The United Nations provides a sounding board for various opinions around the world, but there also is a growing realization that such extensive airing of problems does not always meet the needs of justice. Some of the countries, particularly those of the Asian-African bloc, use the General Assembly purely for propaganda purposes. The Italian government apparently has come to realize this in agreeing with Western advice that it not bring its dispute with Austria to the U. N. If international help is needed, the proper place is the International Court of Justice, as Italy has suggested to Austria.

The controversy concerns two provinces in the South Tyrol, under Italian jurisdiction but populated by some 220,000 German speaking inhabitants. In 1946, an agreement was reached by Italy's premier and the Austrian foreign minister and later written into the 1947 Italian peace treaty. The accord stated that the people in the two provinces should have some "autonomous legislative and executive power."

But the extent of the power never was spelled out. Italy says it has been reached. Austria says it hasn't and that there might possibly be reason for secession of the areas from Italy and annexation by Austria.

This obviously is an interpretive matter as it stands today. The two nations agreed to the clause in the treaty and a court should decide the extent of the meaning of the clause. Then, if Italy and Austria still wished to make changes, a new treaty could be written. Bringing up the matter before the General Assembly simply would mean pulling out all the emotional stops and the real issues would be obliterated.

Voters Cry In Vain for Tax Equity

From The Wisconsin State Journal

Office holders and office seekers, by and large, have fallen over each other in the last half-dozen elections in denouncing the sales tax and yammering about taxes based on ability to pay. But as any farmer or businessman can tell you, the assessor doesn't ask whether he can afford it when adding up the figures for real and personal property.

There is a ground swell demand in Wisconsin for property tax relief and a more equitable sharing of government's rising costs. Farmers feel more strongly because they are the hardest hit, but the feeling is more widespread than that.

This seems to be another case where the people are ahead of their elected representatives.

If our present legislators and candidates for office think they can keep on mouthing the same old slogans and appealing to the same old prejudices to delay a tax overhaul for another five years, they're in for a rude awakening.

Why Pick on Foundry Because of Dirt, Noise, Workers' Wives Ask

Editor, Post-Crescent:

To the Citizens of Neenah: Our families are supported by the wages our husbands earn as employees of the Neenah Foundry Co. For this obvious reason we would like our names withheld.

Now we imagine your readers will say "Sure, they are prejudiced." They couldn't be farther from the truth. We agree that the dirt from the foundry is objectionable, but you can't have business without dirt.

With all of the plants in this city such as the Neenah Milk Products, which has very black soot spewing from it, Kumlark, Badger Globe, which has a horrible smell of sulphate that you can smell all over the city on humid days, Manhattan Rubber Co., and even the Soo Line Railroad, the soot of which is oily, why is the Neenah Foundry the only plant that is dirtying up the city.

Now we read that it's smoke can cause cancer. Honestly, this whole business is getting to be a big laugh. How about the exhaust from the cars that travel on our streets, smoking of cigarettes, using lipstick etc. People aren't giving these things up. They can't be too worried about their health or they would. Of all the years the Foundry has been in its present location, why, all of a sudden, should it become a cause of cancer?

We have lived within the boundaries of the Neenah Foundry Co.'s smoke for almost all of our lives and are, to put it mildly, disgustingly healthy. We doubt very much if anyone in this area can contribute any illness he or she has directly to the Foundry.

If these people who complain so much about the dirt are that worried about their health why on earth did they buy homes in this area? Certainly they knew the Foundry was here before they bought, and comparative newcomers are doing all the complaining. Why don't they write about the times they were held up by the trains when they were on their way to work, or to town, or when their children had to leave extra early for school so they wouldn't be late? Or why not complain about the dirt and the banging of the switching trains?

We've done it more than once, only not in the paper. We went right to the railroad. They told us the changing of the switches was too expensive, that they would move the railroad out first, they were here before the city was built out this far. Well, so was the Foundry. Did these same people who are complaining ever stop to think of the taxes they would pay if these "dirty" businesses were all to move out? Then they would write to the papers and complain about taxes.

Don't forget the Neenah Foundry supports an awful lot of people not only in this city but from surrounding communities also. Who is going to take over the responsibility if the Foundry were to move out? The industries left couldn't and after the Foundry was gone some other plant would get pressured until it left — then what? Instead of complaining why not dust off the window-sills, then look out and up from that same window and thank the good Lord that we have the good and prosperous city we are living in. We have too many things to be thankful for to complain about one industry, among so very many, causing a little dirt and smoke.

Thank you for reading our feelings in this matter,

The Mothers of Healthy Foundry Area Children.

Looking Backward

More Anti-Lincoln Ammunition

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of July 7, 1860.

The statement made by the Democratic papers that Lincoln was opposed to the Mexican War and that when in Congress he took sides with the enemy has been denied by the black Republicans.

Yet it is a fact that he uniformly voted against the war, against retaining the American Army in Mexico, against the continuance of the war at a time when it would have been dishonorable, if not impossible to stop, against the rewards given the officers and the vote of thanks to the soldiers, in fact, against all parts of the war. He furnished by his speeches and his votes the very best aid and comfort to the enemy.

In view of the denial the party sheets are now making, the Illinois State Register, published in the town where he resides, has taken the trouble to overhaul his Congressional record and adduce the proof of the charges that have been made.

These facts show, beyond all cavil or doubt, that he occupied the same position in the Mexican War that the Tories did in the Revolution and the Federalists in the second war.

25 YEARS AGO
Wednesday, July 3, 1935

Transfer of more than 31,000 Wisconsin persons on work relief to the new federal program was expected to be completed by Aug. 1, and was expected to raise the average relief case among these workers from a $35 earned budget to a cash "security wage" of $50 per month, WERA Director Alfred W. Briggs said today.

The Rev. G. H. Blum of Emmanuel Evangelical church was to be chairman of the twentieth annual YMCA campaign for funds, it was announced at a meeting of the Twentieth anniversary committee.

William Zuehlke, Appleton, was district chairman of the Spanish War veterans picnic which was to be held at Green Bay, July 26. Veterans from Manitowish, Oconto, Green Bay, Marinette and Appleton were to attend with members of the women's auxiliaries.

Paul Albrecht, Neenah, won his first match in a Milwaukee junior singles tennis tournament.

Raymond Henk, Menasha, was named a delegate to the state meeting of the butchers union at Milwaukee.

Democrats Know of Need for Tax Reform

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — The chances are overwhelming that if there is another Democratic administration in the state house for the next two to four years it will find ways to ignore the seemingly explicit opposition to any kind of a sales tax, for any purpose, that is contained in the 1960 campaign platform adopted by party delegates recently.

The prospect is suggested not only by the blunt realities of public finance in Wisconsin, and the private positions of the best informed of the party leaders — often against their ideological desires — but by the evidence of gradually adjusting views of representative party workers.

There is no intention here to suggest that there is any wholesale conversion among working Democrats today from the easy position of other times that the best and only way to tax for public services is through the income tax — the higher the rates on the upper brackets the better.

But at the recent Milwaukee delegate meeting there were these several statements made in public sessions of the platform committee or on the convention floor itself:

The greatest need for tax reform, and the party's best hope for friendship by the small businessman, is for the repeal of the personal property tax.

There is a need for removal of the tax shelter of such economic enterprises as big cooperatives, savings and loan associations, mutual insurance companies, as well as those favorite whipping boys of the liberals, the bankers.

There is a relation between the level of income taxation and the attractiveness of the state as a place in which to locate and operate a business.

These were isolated utterances, surely not representative of the viewpoint of the average Democratic politician. But, as when the pheasant turns up at the henhouse, it was a very interesting thing nevertheless. Reporters who have covered Democratic conventions all of their adult lives have not heard before such heretical — considering the previous doctrinal statements of the party — speeches before. There is something going, it may be deduced.

It must be emphasized here that such outbursts are far from influential — as the new Democratic platform shows. But there is a temptation to wonder, nevertheless, when a university professor, an announced liberal, will declare in a public meeting that the time may come that the sales tax will be required as a mechanical device because the income tax is not reliably productive for the self-assessing taxpayers in the middle brackets. This professor mentioned small businessmen and farmers, to the audible embarrassment of some of the practical politicians present. But no one attempted to refute him.

THE POINT

The point is that individual income tax auditing of small accounts is a very costly matter, and that as rates go up, there is a very human tendency among the self-employed who have the opportunity to over-state their deductions or understate their net incomes, or both. All the talk about the virtues of withholding laws is irrelevant here. The withholding proposals exempt the self-employed.

Thus there are signs of realism in the new majority party on this central question of state politics, defying to some slight degree the romantic assumptions of its liberal platform.

The same realism, or instinct for self-preservation, was shown when the top man of the assembly Democrats, and the top adviser of Gov. Nelson, jumped to their feet in earnest admonition against promising immediate and costly social welfare goals in the next legislature. A couple of years ago such a plank would have been pushed through routinely. Now the party leaders are sensitively aware, as Speaker Molinaro put it so aptly, that "we're going to have to pay the freight."

Scientist Applies Nature's Ingenuity To Recent Invention

From The Anderson (S. C.) Independent

A sharp-eyed scientist who saw porpoises radially pass his ship used his discovery to invent a device he says will double the speed of submarines and increase their range tenfold.

The porpoises are completely covered with a sixteenth of an inch of elastic, ducted, hydraulic skin.

Dr. Max O. Krammer, a missile scientist, has developed a thin layer of rubber with a lot of little rubber pillars underneath that can be stretched over submarines to revolutionize underwater travel.

A research scientist has to see more than meets the eye of the ordinary observer.

Newest Style From Paris Startling Regression to 20s

From The Columbus (Ohio) Citizen-Journal

Paris dispatches say the House of Dior has daringly come out with a playback of the flapper-type, flat-bottomed garb for midlife, whereas only the day before a top rival designer was giving the full-blown treatment to the same facade.

Now that calls for some figuring — and some changed signals. What'll it be, gals, 38-20-37 or 30 across the board?

Maturity and Experience Now an Issue

History Shows Many Presidents Lacked Two Traits

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — There's an old tactic in debate—turn a weakness, if possible into a strength. Sen. Kennedy of Massachusetts took advantage of the publicity opportunity opened up for him by former President Truman and discussed extensively before a nationwide television audience the question of his youth and alleged lack of experience for the presidency.

Whether he did a job sufficient to convince the Democratic national convention is the one thing. Whether the same will have to find a rebuttal argument would convince the country is quite another. Youth itself is no handicap to the presidency, as Sen. Kennedy accurately pointed out how other Americans—

Maturity, Experience
Mr. Truman obviously had in mind Sen. Lyndon Johnson, majority leader of the senate, as such a man. Sen. Kennedy, in refuting the idea that he is too young, was quick to refer to the other point—experience—to his record of 14 years in congress.

He was unable to offer the kind of experience in shaping of legislative policy which Sen. Johnson of Texas possesses. If Mr. Kennedy is the Democratic nominee, he will have to find a rebuttal argument to the Republican argument that Vice President Nixon has for the past seven years actually worked in the White House. Some of the delegates to the Democratic convention will certainly be thinking of these points and particularly whether Sen. Johnson would make a better impression on the voters on the score of "maturity and experience" than would Sen. Kennedy.

Lacked Knowledge
Former President Truman put his finger on a question that will influence many voters—whether Sen. Kennedy is not in a position of leadership. He knew little about the executive end of government. Calvin Coolidge, a former governor of Massachusetts, bowed often to the will of congress, about whose procedures and methods he knew little.

Warren Harding, Republican, elected in 1920, had served one term as a senator but not in a position of leadership. He knew little about the executive end of government. Calvin Coolidge, a former governor of Massachusetts, bowed often to the will of congress, about whose procedures and methods he knew little.

William Howard Taft, Republican, was elected president in 1908. His lack of knowledge of legislative processes helped to retard his progress, and he was not reelected. Woodrow Wilson, Democrat, had served a brief term as governor of New Jersey before he was elected in 1912. His first term was largely spent in getting familiar with congressional problems.

Herbert Hoover, elected in 1928, had served eight years in the cabinet and knew the executive side very well, but he lacked knowledge of the ways of congress. Franklin D. Roosevelt had served as an assistant secretary of the navy and as governor of New York before his election to the presidency in 1932, but he really was "going to school" the first two years of his administration.

Harry S. Truman, who became president in 1945, had had experience as a senator, but as an executive he was a neophyte. He made his decisions impetuously and without that same maturity of judgment which he is asking Johnson, whose television appearance is next, will be able to underline just what is States government obligations. Many of the Truman decisions were in the public interest, but some were not. Judging by the impression to stationary objects. About two weeks ago near Galesville, in Trempealeau county, a dusting plane crashed and its pilot was killed.

Crop Dusters Begin Working just as other people are ready to go home. When the wind drops in the evening pilots prepare their planes for flying until after dark. Emmett Ferguson, Stuttgart, Ark., climbs into the cockpit of his biplane after checking areas to be sprayed with fellow pilot J. D. Troxell, Dexter, Mo. Troxell is zipping a flight map into the knee pocket of his flying suit.

An investigation showed there was a single hole in the wooden seat. "It's unofficial," Ferguson said, looking at his plane, "but it sure looked like a bullet hole. It was the kid's first time out."

Ferguson, who began flying when he was 17, is married and has a little girl. He has been dusting for four seasons, going to school in off-seasons, and waiting to be drafted.

Troxell, a former mechanic and maintenance man, has been dusting for nine seasons. He is married and says, "me and my wife together have four children." He plans to continue dusting as long as his health holds out.

Both are members of a crew working for J. O. Dockery, out of Stuttgart, Ark. About seven fliers are spread throughout the state and operate out of a base camp at Pardeville.

Work Odd Hours

Troxell and Ferguson left Appleton Friday for Sturgeon Bay and will soon return to Stuttgart. They then will begin dusting southern cotton crops.

They arrived early last week and had a rough time beating the weather. Their flying day begins at 4 or 5 a. m., or "as soon as it's light enough to see." They stop when the wind comes up and resume in the evening when they fly until after dark.

The spraying season lasts roughly six months, and Ferguson says the fliers make about the same as a factory worker would make in a year. About $3,000 is a good season, but in a real good one a good pilot can double that. Of course, you have to spread it out over a year.

Fit Mental Picture

The dusters are usually away from their homes for 2-week periods, traveling from job to job in the open planes. The Stearmans cruise at about 90 miles an hour and need fuel every two and a half hours.

The two dusters take their jobs in stride, but they match to perfection any mental image one may have of pilots in the by-gone era of barnstorming that followed World War I. Troxell is comparatively small, rather quiet and goes about his job in a workmanlike manner. He wears a brown flight suit, canvas helmet and goggles.

Ferguson, 23, is tanned, relaxed and smiles easily. He flies in khakis and a leather helmet with sponge lining too keep my ears warm.

Both seem to like their work and radiate a quiet self-confidence. This confidence is probably a prime requisite for the work.

As one citizen said, in a complaint to Outagamie county police about low-flying planes, "Just how low can an airplane fly? They must be crop dusters."

The planes — Stearman bi-planes used as pilot trainers during World War II — have been modified slightly for crop dusting. The original 220-horsepower engines have been replaced with 450-horsepower Pratt and Whitney radial engines. The front cockpit has been sealed off to house 180 gallons of water-poison mix. and spray systems have been installed under the wings. Apparently all the hazards in crop dusting are not limited to stationary objects. About

Law Enforced To Stop Forced Park Integration

Gulfport, Miss.—(AP)—A Mississippi sheriff, acting under a new state law to head off racial conflict, cleared out Negroes and white persons from a federal park play area.

Harrison County Sheriff Curtis Dedaux and 20 deputies yesterday ordered both groups out of Desoto National park beaches, he said. If anyone north of here after a disagreement had refused to move on. Dement over use of a ball diameter. There was no violence. put them in jail.

"It appeared to be a well-planned effort to integrate the park," the sheriff said. Though the dispute occurred on federal land, the recreation area historically has been used by white persons. Dedaux said he thought reports Negroes would try to integrate the beaches over the July 4th weekend was a smoke screen. "This was the integration plan in mind and not the out of Desoto National park beaches," he said. If anyone north of here after a disagreement had refused to move on. Dement over use of a ball diameter. There was no violence. put them in jail.

SNEAK PREVIEW

The Showcase Home, one of the finest examples of the home builder's art will be opened to the public next weekend. But, if you would like to see this house before the opening day crowds, you may preview it during limited evening hours this week.

As soon as you step through the door you will realize this house is different. The driftwood beamed and paneled ceiling of the large living room impresses you with the care given to the home's design. At first glance you are also impressed with the great amount of living space — every one of its 1600 square-feet is put to its best use. There are three bedrooms plus a large paneled den. The den can also serve as either a fourth bedroom or family room. There is a bath (with ceramic tile) adjacent to the bedrooms and a powder room at the rear entrance. There is a formal dining area as well as dining space in the kitchen. An automatic laundry is just steps away from the kitchen. A two-car garage is attached.

The serious home buyer will look further and discover the superior quality of the construction. He will find, for example, the natural gas-fired hot water heating system as well as a gas-fired domestic water heater.

The wiring is Certified and attests to the high quality of even the construction that is hidden from view. Because the wiring is Certified you are assured enough electrical outlets conveniently located, enough circuits and large enough wires to operate all your present and future appliances.

The lighting is another clue of the superior construction and design. There is not a bare bulb in the house to insult your eyes. Every room has wall-switch-controlled general lighting. In the living room general lighting is provided by a lighted valance. The valance gives a gentle background light that washes away harsh shadows. It also gives a cheerful and spacious atmosphere to the room after dark. The valance is dimmer controlled so you can set the lighting of the room at the exact level you want it. The bathroom is lighted by a four-foot-long recessed fixture that gives all the light you may need for shaving or make-up. This great amount of light is comfortable to your eyes because it is shielded by a Corning low-brightness lens. Lighting in other rooms was as carefully planned and finest Lightolier fixtures were selected.

Lawrence Radloff, who has designed and built some of the most distinctive homes in the Valley, is the builder.

You can preview this exceptional home tonight through Friday evening this week from 7:00 to 10:00. The entrance to the South Meadows plat, where the Showcase Home is located, is on South Kernan avenue in Appleton between S. River and Fremont streets. Signs will guide you from the plat entrance to the home.

Play Being Made From 'Advise and Consent'

Fredric March to Star in New Broadway Offering About Senate

BY JINGO One of the top fiction sellers for several seasons has been the knowledgeable novel, "Advise and Consent." It has been called a primer for understanding the operation of the U. S. senate.

It is now being prepared for the legitimate stage with a stellar cast including Wisconsin's Fredric March, Lloyd Nolan and Ed Begley as the senators from Michigan, Illinois and South Carolina.

The senator from Utah will, in a way, be from the west. He's Earl Holliman, star of TV's "Hotel de Paree."

Politics is dramatic, but all political dramas have not been successful. Today the current political play "The Best Man" joins the ranks of the most successful when it stages its 100th performance.

—all to standing room only crowds, it is reported.

The taut drama of the backroom maneuvering in the nomination of a president stars Melvyn Douglas, who will share the play's celebration with one of his own. Douglas, a product of midwestern stock companies, is marking his 40th year on the American stage.

He has been a star for 30 of those years after appearing in "Tonight Or Never" opposite Helen Gahagan, whom he married and who knows about politics from her term in congress representing California, until she was unseated by Vice President Nixon.

On Sept. 20, the American stage will be invaded by one of the strangest creatures rampant in the world theater, Brendan Behan, when his London hit, "The Hostage," opens at the Cort theater in New York.

Despite the long London run, the play never is played exactly the same two nights running since Behan keeps rewriting. And when the irresistible writer spends too much time with the grape or when the mood moves him, he has been known to take over the stage and put on a most unconventional performance.

This will be Behan's first trans-Atlantic foray and it is hoped New York's Finest will be as understanding as the Bobbies.

Another British subject is looking for understanding. Lady Vivien Leigh is seeking a sponsor who understands the need for her to receive $100,000 to appear on television as Camille or even Evita Peron. She says she has a good reason. That's the price her estranged husband, Sir Lawrence Olivier, got for Moon and Sixpence. Jingo wonders if she expects an Emmy, too.

Most detectives are satisfied with solving mysteries the sponsors.

Soviet Tests Aim at Putting Man in Space ocean. The defense department said the Atlas fell in a pre-selected target area but did not elaborate.

Of the latest test Tass said that "special vessels in the central Pacific equipped with various measuring instruments took measurements envisaged by the program and obtained valuable results."

To accumulate further experimental data the testing of powerful ballistic rockets will be continued. The rockets will fall within the boundaries of the zone indicated in the June 29 Tass announcement. The Soviet agency added.

Set to Pierce Atmosphere
The announcement said the rocket's dummy last stage had been "adapted for passage through dense layers of the atmosphere." This could indicate that the Russians are preparing to try to bring back and recover a rocket nose cone from outer space, a necessary preliminary to sending a man into space. The Russians previously announced that the rocket they test-fired in the Pacific in January was later used to send their 4-ton space ship manned with a dummy astronaut into orbit May 15.

As in the first Soviet Pacific rocket test this series was announced well in advance. Tass repeated previous warnings to ships to stay out of the impact area until the shots are concluded by July 31.

The target area is a 50,000-square-mile zone about 600 miles south of Johnson atoll, which the United States uses as a naval base. The January target area lay about 150 miles northwest of the current zone and parts of the two overlapped.

Location of the launching sites for the tests were disclosed. Speculation abroad placed the January launching sites near the Caspian sea, or about a third of the way around the earth from the landing area.

The U.S. Defense department figured the latest Russian shot traveled about 7,700 miles. A Washington statement said the U.S. calculation was based on the ranges claimed by the Russians in their January tests.

Several western pilots reported seeing the Soviet rocket in flight.

The defense department said two U.S. Navy patrol planes observed vapor trails and saw the rocket hit the water about dawn.

Pilot Impressed
An airline pilot said he saw a bright object that looked like a very bright star with a halo about 10 times the size of the moon streaking across the sky just after he left Tokyo.

"I have never seen anything quite so awe-inspiring in all my 35 years of flying," Capt. H. Lanier Turner told newsmen in Honolulu.

The Soviet rocket that carried two dogs and a rabbit 130 miles into space last month and brought them back also photographed cloud formations over "vast areas" and made other meteorological observations, Tass reported today.

The animals, examined after their recovery from the nose cone, were found to have suffered "no serious disturbances of physiological functions whatever," Tass said. In the same rocket were instruments to form ionized clouds in the upper layers of the atmosphere to investigate them, to measure the tension of the electric field near the rocket's surface and to study the makeup of the ionosphere the report said.

Other instruments measured the infrared radiation of the earth and the ultraviolet radiation of the sun, the news agency reported.

and plugged keyholes. I guess they're afraid of radiation or something.

"They've been working nights on their homes for the past couple of months, and it looked like they were digging in their basements. I reckon they've got bomb shelters down there."

"From what I gather, they figure they'll be the only ones left after this attack."

Authorities first became aware of the situation yesterday when Warren Burke of Benson complained that his wife and her children were missing.

End of World
Burke, who is not a member of the sect, told officers his wife recently had talked vaguely about the church, the world's end and atomic attacks.

Coffey was sent to investigate but when he tried to get a response by knocking on the church and the homes, no one answered.

"I don't think there's anything we can do about it," said Coffey. "We've had no trouble with them in any way. And, after all, it's their business."

Members of the sect arrived in Benson about six months ago from Columbus, Ohio. Coffey said their leader is the Rev. Ann Weimer, a former Assembly of God minister. "It's kind of funny," said Coffey. "They've never acted peculiar before."

"I don't know when they figure the world's going to end but I guess we'll just wait for them, even if it takes a couple of weeks."

Castro Gets Power to Grab All U. S. Holdings

price of 5 1/2 cents a pound or more.

Want Premium Price
Cuba's sugar quota this year is 3,100,000 tons, and sugar industry sources in Washington expect Eisenhower to cut it perhaps 700,000 tons. That would put American purchases 600,000 tons below the figure at which the first dollar would go into the compensation fund.

The decree also put a superpremium price on Cuban sugar before the American owners can be repaid. The United States has been paying about 5 1/2 cents a pound, or about 2 1/2 cents above the world market price.

The decree specified that expropriation edicts could not be appealed.

It also contained what appeared to be a retroactive clause stating that it annulled all "legal dispositions and regulations that are opposed to the application of this law."

No Value Set
It was assumed that under this provision payment for the vast American holdings in sugar and cattle lands previously seized under the agrarian reform program would be hinged to sugar sales. The agrarian law provides for compensation in government bonds, but so far the Castro regime has not made a move to even set a value on the seized holdings.

The decree gave no indication of the next target for seizure. The Cuban Electric company is assumed to be high on the list. Half of its $300 million valuation is American held, and it is the largest single American holding in Cuba. American interests so far taken over by the Castro regime have been "intervened," not expropriated. In practice intervention has meant seizure, with government appointees replacing American personnel.

Seizures Protested
This was the process used against the Esso, Texaco and Shell refineries because they refused to process Soviet oil. The U.S. and British governments protested the seizures yesterday and demanded return of the holdings to their owners but Castro is certain to ignore the protests.

A cut of 700,000 tons in Cuba's quota of sugar sales to the United States will cost Cuban growers $35 million in lost U.S. subsidies, even more if they cannot sell their sugar elsewhere.

In anticipation of a cut in the quota, the U.S. agriculture department yesterday forbade further imports of Cuban sugar to the United States until Eisenhower acts.

In an effort to ward off Latin American charges of interference in Cuba's internal affairs, administration sources in Washington said Eisenhower would contend that the island under Castro can no longer be depended on to supply a third of the sugar the United States consumes.

Americans Shocked
In support of this contention, Washington officials cited (1) the Castro regime's announced intention to diversify the country's agricultural economy, now heavily devoted to sugar; (2) the opinion of U.S. experts that Castro's land reform program is likely to cause a drop of at least a million tons in Cuba's sugar output; and (3) Castro's recent agreement to sell five million tons of sugar to Russia over the next five years and other sugar deals with communist nations.

Announcement of the expropriation decree sent a shock wave through the American colony in Havana, many of whom had stayed up late to get the news. Some sort of retaliatory measure had been expected but nothing so far-reaching.

In London yesterday, informed sources said President Arturo Frondizi of Argentina, on a state visit, told British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan he had urged Castro in vain to halt his drift toward the left. Frondizi also was quoted as telling Macmillan that Castro had not violated any international law and that he could find no basis for international action against the Cuban regime.

Italian Senate Asks Mafia Probe

giving him authority to cut the Cuban quota, reached his desk along with reports and studies by the appropriate departments only a few minutes before the news conference. He said he thought something would be said on this subject either later today or tomorrow.

Eisenhower said this country is trying hard to have the Cubans understand that there is no quarrel between the people of this country and them but that the difficulties are caused only by what he called the inexplicable actions of their government.

The discussion came up as Eisenhower was reported prepared to slash U. S. sugar imports from Cuba which have paid big premiums to Cuban growers.

Eisenhower declared it will be a miracle if the $4 billion budget surplus which he estimated for the fiscal year which started July 1 is now realized.

Prospects for a surplus of that size have been dashed, the president said by the failure of congress to meet his request for higher taxes on gasoline and for an increase in postal rates.

He also mentioned the $700 million cost to the new federal out pay increase — put into effect over his veto — as another factor which will reduce the surplus the administration had forecast in January.

Wednesday, July 6, 1960 Appleton Post-Crescent A12

So far as he knows, Eisenhower said, the fact that steel production is at about 50 per cent of capacity provides the only grounds for predictions by some economists that the country is headed for a new recession.

Actually, Eisenhower said, 50 per cent of capacity today is comparable to 75 per cent a few years ago because of the big increase in production facilities.

Employment Up
Eisenhower said the rate of steel production immediately after the strike settlement early this year was nothing short of astonishing.

As for the general economic situation, Eisenhower said that during April, May and June this year the output of all goods and services was at the rate of $503 billion a year. He remarked also that employment was up by one million in May.

Eisenhower said that at present his only plans for participation in the presidential and congressional election campaigns are a speech at the GOP national convention will be 70 Oct. 14.

In Chicago the evening of July 26, and a breakfast there the next morning. In making that statement he did not rule out possible additional activity in the fall. Asked for his views regarding the age of presidents, a question already figuring in this year's pre-convention doubt his own intellectual campaigns, Eisenhower noted judgment but he never doubts his own heart—that is, his devotion to the current second term termination to do the right will become the oldest thing.

Canadian Air Marshal Dies in Accident

Colorado Springs, Colo. — (U.S.)—The second-ranking Canadian officer at North American Air Defense command died in the tangled cords of his parachute after jumping from a disabled plane late yesterday.

Air Vice Marshall Keith L. B. Hodson, 44, was strangled or suffered a broken neck. An autopsy was scheduled today. Hodson was deputy chief of staff for operations at NORAD, which is manned both by U. S. and Canadian airmen. He ranked just below Canadian Air Marshal C. Roy Slemon, deputy NORAD commander.

The Canadian officer parachuted from a T33 jet trainer while on a familiarization flight with a U.S. officer, Col. Harry B. Allen, as instructor. Allen said the plane's engine "flamed out" at 13,000 foot altitude. Hodson jumped first, then Allen, in a heavy overcast.

He will pass that milestone next Oct. 3—outstripping Andrew Jackson. Eisenhower recalled that while president he has suffered three serious illnesses. He said he doesn't feel that those illnesses have been any deciding factor in his handling of his job.

Chuckling a bit, he went on to say that sometimes he may doubt his own intellectual judgment but he never doubts his own heart—that is, his devotion to the current second term termination to do the right will become the oldest thing.

Attorney Says Common Council Misappropriated $25,000 in Funds

Claims Present Administration Is Party To Illegal Actions Dating Back to 1923

Kaukauna — City Atty. Emmet Rohan Tuesday night accused the common council of being a party to the misappropriation of $25,000 of taxpayers' money to the American Legion over the last 27 years.

In a letter to Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon and the council Rohan again spoke against resolutions passed at the June meeting whereby the Legion and VFW were given money amounting to $1,100 to promote various activities.

This being done over the objection of the city attorney Rohan called, "a new low in municipal action in Kaukauna." Rohan stated, "this letter does not pretend to be a complete history of the benevolence of the Kaukauna Common Council. This letter will go into the history of the misappropriation of municipal funds to the American Legion in this and past years."

Starting in 1923, before some present aldermen were born, Rohan stated the Legion was given the old city hall rent free. Between 1923 and 1938 the city paid $11,230.66 in maintaining the hall used by the Legion without charge, stated Rohan.

Other Money In 1938 the hall was sold to the Legion for $1 with covenants in the deed saying the city could repurchase the property for $1 when needed for school purposes. Rohan continued by saying the city had deeded property worth $6,000 to the Legion in 1939, although the Legion did not accept it because of deed restrictions.

Thus, according to the attorney's figures total amount given the Legion increased to $17,230. Rohan then pointed to the $400 given the organization each year for five years to support the Junior American Legion baseball team, making the donation to the Legion now $19,230.

Finally, Rohan indicated, the council will likely give the Legion $5,301 for the old Legion hall building, the amount asked for the structure by the Legion indicating its original costs plus improvements put in by the post.

Concluding he indicated it was illegal to give the Legion hall space rent free, it was illegal to pay maintenance costs, it was illegal to give them 25 acres of municipal park land and it will be illegal to purchase the old building for the asking price and it was illegal to give money to service organizations at the June meeting.

More Difficulty After receiving the letter and placing it on file, the council heard more problems concerning the Legion and its efforts to locate a site for a clubhouse. The post recently purchased a tavern, in a residential area, and has been making plans to expand the tavern and make it suitable for club purposes.

A delegation of citizens from the area near the tavern objected both at the meeting and through letter about the Legion locating a clubhouse in a quiet residential neighborhood. They urged the council to help the Legion find a suitable site, away from residential districts, which would be satisfactory for the post itself and citizens.

An application for a liquor license by the Legion was referred to the health and recreation committee for study and recommendation.

In routine business the council accepted the recommendation of the planning commission to rezone an area adjacent to Highway 41 from residential to central business district pending the results of a public hearing.

The council also agreed to take steps to secure the playground areas in the High street and Eighteenth street areas as recommended by the commission.

A resolution was passed endorsing the efforts of area Knights of Columbus to have a regional office locate in the Fox Cities and the fire chief was authorized to attend a 3-day convention.

Appointment of Wilfred Powers and Fred Reichel to the board of appeals by Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon was approved.

Little Chute Accepts Bids on Sewage Job

Local Contractor Apparently Low on New Plant Project

Little Chute — Bids on the general contract and electrical work for a new sewage treatment plant here were opened by the village board Tuesday night.

Henry Verbruggen Construction, Little Chute, was the apparent low bidder on the general contract with a bid of $192,462.25.

Check by Government Low for the electrical work was Mullen Electric, Appleton, with a bid of $12,430. After the bids were read they were referred to the village board.

Large engineer for tabulation. The estimates also must be sent in to the federal government for checking since a part of the financing of the project is being taken care of by a federal grant in aid. Other estimates on the general contract included Hedrick Construction, Chilton, $240,817; Bahr Construction company, Manitowoc, $262,800; and Dick Oudenhoven Construction, Kaukauna, $238,423. Additional bid prices for the electrical work included Langstadt, Inc., $14,739; Sanders Electric, Little Chute, $15,920; Kiel and Warner, Neenah, $15,900; Stephenson Electric, Appleton, $13,465; and V and M Electric, Menominee, Mich., $18,606. In other action the board adopted a resolution commending the local Knights of Columbus chapters for their efforts in trying to have a mid-west office locate in the Fox Cities area. It was announced that a new life line to separate the shallow area from deeper water has been ordered for the Doyle park swimming pool.

Pension Plan Costs Triple In 10 Years
Taxpayer Group Says Contributions Total $23 Million Annually
Madison — A swift rise in the cost of state and local retirement programs for public employees has been reported by Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance, a non-partisan public affairs group. The cost of pension systems has more than tripled during the last decade, the alliance found, and is now approaching a total of $23 million yearly. There are five major state and local pension plans numbering on their rolls about 84 per cent of all full-time and part-time employees. Most of them also are enrolled under the old age and survivors' insurance program of the national government. The state-local and the federal plans require contributions by the governmental agencies as employers. Separate Coverage The alliance found there are 90,723 employees who are members of local and state pension systems, out of an estimated total of about 108,389 public employees of the state. The major program is the Wisconsin "State Retirement fund, embracing more than 38,000 employees. The state teachers' retirement fund has nearly 30,000 members. There are separate programs for Milwaukee and Milwaukee teachers. Matching Amounts When local plans were begun public employees were not eligible for the federal system. The Wisconsin Retirement program was established only 12 years ago. Later the congress made public employees eligible, and the local and state funds were integrated with the national retirement system. Contribution rates of members and employing units vary. The state employee generally contributes four per cent, with the amount matched by the state. Local employees pay three or four per cent, also matched, the rate depending on the decision of a back porch at a cost of $400 and Henry Van Grinsven, 316 rates are exclusive of the S. RE-GROW HAIR? PREVENT BALDNESS?

MAKING THIS OFFER TO PEOPLE WHO WANT TO AVOID BALDNESS

WOMEN CHILDREN

FREE EXAMINATIONS 30 DAY TRIAL
Given to determine whether your particular scalp problem will respond to treatment
Given to prove the progress that can be made with new home treatment method

If you happen to be losing your hair and don't know why—if you want to save your hair and don't know how—you should find out the answer to both problems before your condition reaches the point where nothing can be done.

If some of your friends or relatives, with an obvious loss of hair, suddenly started improving their appearance and general disposition by stopping hair loss and filling in the thin spots, there may be a simple answer. Possibly they were intelligent enough to know that they had a problem and sought advice from a qualified source. Doubt and delay have led to a lifetime of total baldness for thousands of men and women when it may have been avoided.

D. W. Erickson, President of Erickson Hair and Scalp Specialists, world's largest home treatment system, has just announced a new two point plan to men and women who fear a life of baldness. "If my offer of a free examination and a 30-day trial doesn't convince the 'doubters,' I know of no other way, outside of impossible guarantees, to bring hope to hair-worried people," says Mr. Erickson. The unretouched photos above show only a few of the thousands who have benefited by using the inexpensive Erickson home treatment method.

WHO CAN BE HELPED?
The new Erickson home treatment system cannot cure total baldness. But if your scalp is still creating hair, you may at least save and thicken what you have. In the great majority of cases of baldness and excessive hair loss (a condition sometimes described as male pattern baldness) we know of no treatments, including the Erickson method, that are of value. However, some conditions such as "spot baldness" usually have

Teens' Skin Problems Require Patience, Care

BY ANGELO PATRI

Adolescent boys and girls are pestered by the skin condition, acne. It is particularly annoying to the girls although boys would cheerfully do without it too. It is not a permanent condition and if the young people are a bit patient, and take a little care of it without making it a matter of major difficulty, the condition disappears.

There are few instances that require medical attention but should the condition be extremely distressing, professional advice should be sought and followed. This help should come from physicians, not beauticians.

Absolute Cleanliness
It is a mistake to put layers of powder and rouge on acne. What is required in most cases is absolute cleanliness. A good scrubbing with warm water and good soap is essential.

Another mistake is standing before the mirror and squeezing and picking at the annoying pimples. Let them alone; keep hands off. Eat whole-some food, watch elimination, keep clean and the thing will go sooner and leave no scars. Squeezing and picking will be likely to prolong the condition and leave scars.

Worrying about this does not help. The thoughts that are held concerning it can help or hinder according to their quality. Complaining, worrying, hiding, refusing invitations because one looks "so terrible," will not help at all but can be the best possible way to keep the thing "terrible."

Part of Growing
The best way to look at it is as something that is temporary, a part of growing up to be taken in stride, accepted as one does the weather, and for-gotten. A cheerful spirit helps the body to perform its functions more easily and so, hastens the process of growth and stability that adolescence indicates.

Yes, people notice this condition but they do not consider it at all remarkable and after the first glance they forget all about it and see only the youthful spirit, the courageous attitude of youth doing its best to grow into maturity.

Don't worry; don't squeeze

What color should a rug below the evidence of heavy traffic and spots from extra small children in the house—soil or wear. And the color not too much money—but a bination of colors is wonderful. This question is asked often, and the answer isn't a light color, of course, because light rugs soil too quickly, or a dark color, which can depress a light-hearted room, or necessarily anything in between. The best answer is a mixture of light and dark colors, in one of the handsome new weaves that combine different piles and sometimes loops of yarn, another of today's new ways of producing texture that doesn't show footstep and furniture depressions.

rule, declarer will tackle that suit for himself, and nobody will thank you for saving him the trouble of doing so.

Dummy won the first trick with the queen of diamonds, and declarer next finessed the queen of spades. West won with the king of spades and looked around for something bright to do.

"Through strength," West thought to himself, and he shifted to the 10 of clubs. He hoped his partner could win a club trick and return a heart.

False Card
South was charmed by the shift to clubs and hoped to encourage the idea. He put up dummy's ace of clubs and dropped the three from his hand as a false card. If West noticed that the deuce of clubs was missing, he might think that East had begun a signal with K-4-2 of clubs.

Declarer next finessed the 10 of spades, losing again to West. And West rushed right on with his demented defense by leading another club. South had no further trouble. He won with the king of clubs, drew the last trump and ran the clubs to discard both of his losing hearts.

"I'm never right," said West. "This time I should have led a heart, but then something would have gone wrong. He'd have held the ace-queen of hearts and no king of clubs."

This fatalistic statement consoled West, so we shouldn't quarrel with it. Everybody's entitled to make a face-saving statement as long as he doesn't fool anybody else.

If South had the ace-queen of hearts and the ace of diamonds, he'd have bid no trump at some time. West should have switched to a

Many women tell me they feel timid about using eye cosmetics. But in the same breath, they admit to some envy over the beauty emphasis such make-up offers.

If you happen to be caught in this situation, here's an excellent out: simply use a colorless, translucent eye-shadow and an eyelash curler.

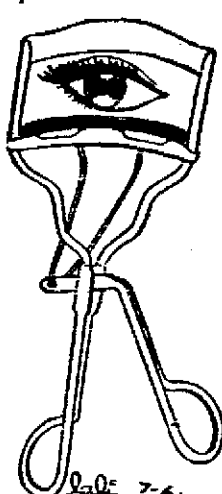

Through curling, the up-sweep of the lashes is increased. This causes the eyes to appear larger and brighter, as more of the iris is revealed and more light is let in.

Translucent shadows strengthen the effect.

To apply the shadow, you merely film the movable lids with it. The rundown on curling methods follows:

First off, to save wear and tear on your lashes, be sure your curler is equipped with soft rubber cushions. For easy cleaning and replacement, the cushions of some curlers click in and out.

Subtle Eye Make-Up

The way to curl is this: Brush on a little lash cream or petroleum jelly. Then slip the upper lashes between the curler's cushions, comfortably close to the lids; squeeze the cushions firmly together, slowly count to 10, and release the pressure. Now slide the cushions to the center of the lashes and squeeze as before.

The result may not be as dramatic as a full eye make-up. But it holds its own in sparkling, wide-eyed appeal.

Chemise Coming Back? That's What Rumors Say

BY PATRICIA GREEN

Rome—Rome's fall fashion show opens Tuesday in the Palazzo Venezia and for the first time the designers will show their collections under one roof.

In the past, the 11 members that make up the Roman "Alta Moda" couture houses have shown their collections separately and at different locations, making it difficult for out-of-town buyers and fashion writers.

Irene Brun, a pint-sized energetic writer for Italian, Spanish and American magazines, was instrumental in getting the fashion houses together. The Rome showings have long been contrasted critically with the Florence showings, where designers for 10 years have been displaying their combined collections at the Pitti Palace.

Compact Plan

Miss Brun, together with the Roman couturiers, worked out a compact, coordinated package at the Palazzo Venezia designed to give Florence a run for the foreign money. The Rome show will last three days.

On Tuesday boutique and accessory collections will be on view in the mosaic area that used to be the private office of Italian dictator Benito Mussolini.

The actual showings will begin the following day in an adjoining room, massive with fresco and hung with a mammoth chandelier.

The last day will bring out the big guns of the couture: Fontana, Gattinoni, De Luca, Eleanora Garnett and Baratta.

Rumors are rampant that the unfitted fit is the big news in Italian fashion, and color, long a mainstay, is brighter than ever.

Create for Clients

Fernanda Gattinoni and Eleanora Garnett are the feminists of the Roman group, contending they create clothes for clients, not for the press. Floaty chiffon, one of Garnett's favorite mediums, is in every collection she makes. Gattinoni, famous for embroidery, always presents glittering examples of jewelery on the most elaborate fabrics.

Gattinoni is also working on a new skirt she says is "a slight triangle with a lot of shape and a little stiffening." She claims it will become to all figures.

De Luca, who has done tricky sleeves before, is planning to do something revolutionary with the arm. "I have created a new proportion that widens the top and skimps the skirt." Is it a seven-eighths length sandwich board shape or a butterfly cape shape? De Luca isn't saying, keeping a traditional silence.

Fontana, whose lips also are sealed, will only promise that her collection is rich with some of the most beautiful and sumptuous evening clothes ever made.

Five Lucky Children Can Win Dancing Puppet in Contest

BY CAPPY DICK

A dancing puppet that will move its arms and legs when you pull a string is the prize in today's name-the-city puzzle contest. Five boys and girls will be winners of these puppets. They will be the contestants whose solutions to the puzzle are not only correct but are the most neatly prepared.

The dancing puppet is 10 inches tall, made of gaily-colored cardboard. Two strings are attached to it. One is used to hold the puppet in midair. The other is used to produce action. When you pull this string, the puppet performs.

Add together the letters represented by these figures.

Some of the puppets are cowboys. Others are clowns and other amusing characters. Every one is full of action when you pull the string. If you would like to try for one of these prizes, here's what to do:

First, study the picture and crayons and use printed above which contains 12 little sketches. Each sketch stands for a letter of the alphabet. When the letters are added together, they will spell the name of a famous city. To decide what the letters are, you must decide what each sketch represents. Use the first letter of that word. For example, the middle picture in the second row is of a rabbit, so "R" is the letter to use.

When you have figured out the name of the city, clip out the picture and paste it on a sheet of paper. Beneath it print the name of the city. All entries will be published here and their prizes will be sent to their homes by mail and address. Get out your

Newlyweds Must Work Together

One of the hardest things for a newly married couple to discover is that the other one doesn't always live up to what is expected or hoped for.

It isn't that one of them is trying to be deliberately nasty; it's just that each has different ideas on what each role is and are easily disillusioned when the other doesn't play the role correctly.

No one has defined the husband and wife roles definitely. As times change, a new generation of children expects different things from their husbands or wives than an earlier generation did.

Today's young couple needs to decide together on the nature of the roles each is to play and what they can reasonably expect from each other. They need to anticipate making adjustments so they aren't disillusioned so easily.

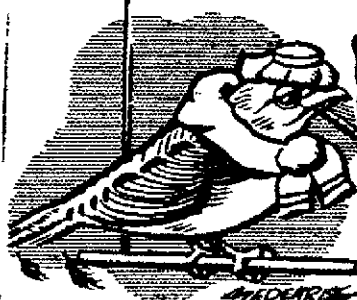

Young couples are often so concerned with satisfying the emotional needs of the other that they forget to work for cooperation in accomplishing their family goals.

Disillusionment develops in marriage where romantic love is the basis for the choice each made in a marriage partner and consequently, both husband and wife are playing roles differently in these changing times.

Many individuals need to adjust attitudes from feeling let down and having feelings hurt to a more constructive attitude. Cooperative self-sacrifice and sharing, sometimes supporting, bolstering, and building the ego of the other, does more for a marriage than countless material things.

Question: Our canary is losing its feathers. Is this an indication of illness?

Answer: This melodious little bird is justifiably proud of his beautiful, variegated coat. He bathes and preens himself daily, but during the moulting season (July to November) it is natural for him to lose his feathers. He may even give up singing. You can aid him through this period with good bird vitamin and one of the many fine "moulting" foods on the market. At any other time of the year, moulting is false and can be dangerous. Lice or mites could be the cause. If you detect this, disinfect his cage immediately and spray your canary with a bird lice-killer or powder before returning him to it. Mishandling can also be a factor: keep him quiet, add a few drops of wheat germ oil to his food and watch closely for signs of illness. If this condition persists, consult your veterinarian.

(Address your question to Dr. Moller in care of this paper. He will answer selected inquiries in his column, but cannot reply to them.)

All entries will be examined by the contest judges to find the 5 correct ones that are the most neatly prepared. The dancing puppets will be awarded to the boys and girls who sent those 5 names and addresses to the prize winners will be published here before midnight of day after tomorrow.

Use the first letter of that word. For example, the middle picture in the second row is of a rabbit, so "R" is the letter to use. When you have figured out the name of the city, clip out the picture and paste it on a sheet of paper. Beneath it print the name of the city. MONEY MISSING

My daughter just graduated from high school. She and one of her classmates have summer jobs in a department store. The other girl had been acting strangely since a few days before graduation. This morning I learned why when I said I'd drive my daughter to work, suggesting we pick up the other girl. My daughter informed me that the girl is mad and it was then I learned why. This girl gave a class party during which $10 was taken from her purse. My daughter is being blamed and I'm convinced she is innocent. The point is that my daughter is giving a party for all of the classmates who are still in town. Because of the accusation, should we eliminate this girl from the guest list?

Louise Davis Answers:

Until the money turns up, which may never happen, your daughter can't prove she is innocent of the theft. The girl apparently won't give your daughter the benefit of the doubt. But why be vindictive? I suggest that your daughter turn the other cheek and give the girl a chance to accept (or refuse). Her conscience is clear and I'm sure she won't regret inviting the girl even if she doesn't accept.

Hand Shaking

Do women in a large mixed group shake hands with one another when being introduced? And how about men?

Louise Davis Answers: Women don't shake hands with each other at a party, but if there is a special, sincere compulsion to do it, it certainly couldn't be considered incorrect. However, men do.

State Reformatory Life Divides New Inmates From Old Prisoners

BY CHARLES HOUSE

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Wisconsin State Reformatory — The new arrival here, no longer entitled to the privileges of a free society, is not yet entitled to the meager privileges of this institution.

The reasons: he is untried, untrusted, uneducated, unexamined and he may be the bearer of a communicable disease. He must, then, be relegated to a kind of institutional limbo, neither a citizen of the "inside" nor of the "outside." He must be oriented and studied.

Every inmate must undergo a series of physical examinations.

He is X-rayed in the reformatory hospital and he undergoes a complete physical examination — blood count, urinalysis, visual and hearing acuity, and a check for various communicable diseases.

Said John Drake, one of two registered male nurses serving the institution: "The people committed to this reformatory are in a remarkably healthy age group. They are young; there are no organic changes of note, and they are usually vigorous and strong. You couldn't pick a healthier age group."

The new inmate is watched closely. He eats with other new arrivals and is not permitted to mix with the regular population. Even his meals are taken separately. The orientation-quarantine program continues for seven days.

Emotional Disturbances

One minor hospital problem incurred by new arrivals is the not infrequent arrival, too, of pediculosis caused by an insect from the numerous city and county jails from which the new inmate has recently come. Such infestations are minor, however, and easily combated.

Second of Series

The new inmate, too, may be given psychiatric treatment if it appears advisable and in many cases it does. A surprising percentage of the institution's population of almost 1,000 young men are emotionally disturbed and can be helped, or at least understood after a session with one of the reformatory's specialists.

Rules Govern Talking

Full and instantaneous cooperation must be had for the numerous daily count of inmates. When a bell is sounded, the prisoner must stand at the cell door until the officer making the count has passed.

At 6 a. m., the prisoner must rise and dress. "Lights out" is at 9:45 p. m. There must be no loudness at any time. Singing and noise in the halls is strictly forbidden.

Jobs Help Inmates

Interview follows interview. He is fingerprinted, photographed and studied from many points of view. Individuals are given intelligence or aptitude tests to determine how he might best be helped into reformation, and what form of duty he may perform for his own improvement.

He is then interviewed by Norman J. Nuss, assistant superintendent of the institution. Along-time operative, Nuss formerly served as a guard and moved to his present position because of his capacity for understanding the young people who stray into this sphere of existence.

Nuss explains the rules. They are many and they may not be compromised. They are also contained in a booklet which the prisoner is expected to study with minute care. Some of them:

The cell must be kept neat and clean and dusted. The floor must be swept before breakfast.

Prisoners Rise at 6 a. m.

At 6 a. m., the prisoner must rise and dress. "Lights out" is at 9:45 p. m. There must be no loudness at any time. Singing and noise in the halls is strictly forbidden.

Knives, tools or other possible weapons are "contraband," as are any sensational literature and photographs or things which have not been issued or which do not belong to an inmate.

A supervised shower must be taken twice a week when the signal is sounded. At these times clean underwear, sunbaths and socks will be what form of duty he may perform for his own improvement. In the dining hall, speech may be carried on if ordinary tones are used. The inmate is urged to study a posted menu place to place in line and in mate earns 35 cents each before entering the dining room in an orderly manner.

Talking is permitted at meal times, going to and from shop or school, during recreational periods and in the cell halls. After 7:30 p. m. there must be no talking in the cells.

Personal possessions may be sold, bartered, traded or given away.

Groups must walk from Wages are earned. Each inmate must be self-sufficient.

nor purchased.

Prison Censors Mail

Letters may be received from, and written to, members of the inmates' immediate family, plus four friends if these have been approved. Only one letter may be sent daily. These, plus the letters received by inmates, are censored.

Visits from members of the inmate's immediate family are permitted one hour per month or from other persons on a list which must be approved.

Escape attempts are serious felonies, as are assaults, for which the offender may receive up to five additional years of imprisonment.

Losses for 'Solitary'

For rule infraction from minor to serious the disciplinary action may range from a reprimand to solitary confinement. Between these two extremes are various gradations which include loss of pay, loss of radio earphones, loss of recreation with loss of privileges, loss of dining hall privileges, loss of cell which specifies no pay greatest regret that some disciplinary actions are as severe as solitary, but in such segregation and loss of pay, an institution as this they are illegal. Detention consists inescapable for the good of the whole.

"Solitary" is complete isolation in a cell. The diet is restricted to 16 ounces of whole milk, 12 ounces of bread on-ly, two such meals per day. A standard penalty is usually three days, and the losses are these:

No pay, no smoking, no radio earphones, no talking, no reading (except the Bible and the rule book) loss of 15 days recreation, loss of "good time" which may affect a parole, privileges, authorized visits and mail.

Solitary is earned for such serious offenses as fighting, assault, escape attempts and deviation, which is not rare and is an institutional problem. The penalties are imposed by a disciplinary court headed by Assistant Superintendent Nuss.

10 County Soil Conservation Groups to Meet

Tour of Two Farms In Winchester Area Planned for Visit

Neenah — Soil conservation supervisors from 10 northeastern Wisconsin counties will visit several Winchester area farms Thursday for their annual tour. About 70 are expected for the tour which will include a picnic meal at the county park at Winneconne at noon.

In charge of the tour will be the county board's agriculture and education committee which makes up the Chairman Joseph Drexler, Ott, county superintendent of Oshkosh and Mrs. Maxine soil conservation supervisor committee. On this committee are Supv. Van Jackson, Omro, chairman, Supv. Warren Miracle, town of Vinland, and Supv. Max Carpenter, town of Rushford plus Board schools, by virtue of their offices.

The group will meet at the Winchester town hall at 10 a. m. Thursday for a welcome by Drexler as Winnebago county board chairman. The first farm to be visited will be that of Willard Oleson, at the intersection of Highway 110 and County Trunk W.M. a mile south of Winchester.

Here the group will observe low land soil conserving practices such as terraces, grass waterways, tiling and tree planting. George Framberger soil conservationist for Winnebago county, will outline details on some of the work done at this farm.

Along with the noon meal will be a discussion on weather forecasting and the value of the forecast to the farmer by Al Loomer, instructor at the University of Wisconsin extension center at Green Bay and meteorologist for WFRV-TV.

A business session also will be held before the group goes to the Elmer Raehl farm on County Trunk AG in the town of Winneconne for observance of high land conserving practices. This will include a demonstration of a wildlife planting area and Harold Steinke, area game management supervisor of the state conservation department, will assist in this discussion.

Legion to Meet

Menasha — Lenz — Gazecki post of the American Legion will meet at 8 p. m. today at its clubrooms, Richard J. Steffens, post commander, announced today.

Fence Ordinance Story Raises Alderman's Anger

Menasha — Publicity in the newspapers about a proposed fence ordinance brought a protest Tuesday night from Ald Robert Mielke who thought the council should have been advised in advance about the ordinance.

"I don't know who put it in the paper but I got objections galore," he declared. "I don't think anyone should have put it in the paper before it was

Neenah Police Move to New Station

Neenah — Police department members moved into the new station at 125 E. Doty avenue this afternoon and set up shop in their new quarters.

Along with their moving into the new station came a new telephone number, Parkway 5-4321.

The department will have four telephone lines instead of the three in use at the old station which will be remodeled into an office for the county treasurer.

The old telephone number of Parkway 2-3363 will still get the police station until the new telephone books are out. The new number should be used whenever possible, callers are advised.

Completion of the transfer of the alarm systems hooking up various business places with the police station was made this morning and the radio equipment for the desk sergeants was moved over and hooked up early this afternoon.

Fined $15, Costs in Neenah Police Court

Neenah — Earl W. Lauger, 45, 154 E. Forest avenue, was fined $15 and costs by Police Justice E. P. Arpin Tuesday after he pleaded guilty of being drunk and disorderly. He was arrested at 1 13 a. m. this morning in the 300 block on N. Commercial street.

Anton F. Przybylski, 19, 918 Adams street, was fined $5 and costs and Donald P. Miller, 20, 633 Cleveland street, was fined $2 and costs after they pleaded guilty of disorderly conduct. They were arrested at 7 58 p. m. Monday in an alley off E. Wisconsin avenue.

discussed by the council. I don't know why it should be released to the paper before we see it.

"I have been getting a lot of calls about this part that the fence must be three feet from the lot line."

Mayor Klein said he did not think it had been the intention to have it released at that time and added that often items can be misconstrued when read.

"What will the people do who are building fences now?" Ald Mielke asked.

Must Get Permits "They should come up and get permits," Allen Merrill building inspector, stated. "It (the newspaper article) woke up a lot of people who were building fences and had not gotten permits. The ordinance proposed reads that any fence over five feet high must be three feet from the lot line not all fences."

Ald Lou Gammy recalled the present fence ordinance was passed in 1953 and Ald Ray Zielinski thought the ordinance and resolutions committee should get together with the building inspector and submit a new fence ordinance for discussion at the next committee of the whole meeting. "We should not allow any more fences to be built as the present ordinance is useless."

Mayor Klein pointed out that building of fences could not be denied until a new ordinance is adopted but would have to be built under the present ordinance.

Ald Paul Laemmrich wanted to know what could be done about fences that are too high and were built without permits. He was advised by City Atty. Richard Steffens that anyone could sign a complaint and the owner brought into police justice court or the council could have a mandamus action begun in circuit court for removal of the fence.

"Is the present ordinance a good one?" Ald Zielinski asked of the building inspector.

Merrill replied it was loosely written and anyone reading it could get a different interpretation.

The council then decided to have copies of the present and the proposed ordinances sent to each alderman for study.

Assigned to Postal Finance Section

Neenah — Ernest Gallmeier has been assigned to the finance section of the post office to succeed Leonard Koepke who retired last Friday. Postmaster George Rasmusen announced today.

Gallmeier has been a distribution clerk and has been with the post office since Nov. 1, 1947. The finance section handles the money orders, postal savings and registered mail.

Menasha Cited by Traffic Engineers For Safety Record

Among 37 Cities in Country Honored by National Group

Menasha — Menasha was ranked among 37 cities of all sizes in the country and is one of five in Wisconsin to be honored by the institute of traffic engineers for its traffic engineering and safety program, the council was advised Tuesday night.

A plaque citing the city for its 1959 safety and traffic accident prevention program is being prepared and will be presented by a representative of the national organization.

The other Wisconsin cities being cited are Milwaukee, Madison, Racine and Wausau. More than 800 cities sent in reports to the national organization last year.

"This puts Menasha up with the bigger cities of the state," Mayor John L. Klein commented. "That's pretty doggone nice. It shows there

The event will open with a parade and numerous contests are listed at the swimming pool.

The parade will form at the Racine street playground at 1 30 p. m. Thursday and proceed to the pool by way of Second street. Youngsters should bring swim suits along to the parade to minimize the delay between the parade and the pool contests.

He was arrested at 9 47 p. m. Tuesday at his home by police called there on the complaint of family members.

No Free Lights for Mac Tourney, Council Decides After Debate

Menasha — Council members Tuesday night debated for about a half hour on a proposal tendered by Mayor John L. Klein not to charge the Menasha Macs for the ball park lights during the district semi-pro tournament July 16 and 17.

Klein

Such action would be legal. City Atty Richard J. Steffens advised, if the city were to jointly sponsor the tournament and if it were not for profit and if no admission fee was charged.

Thus advised the motion to allow the 'free lights' subject to approval by the park board jointly to sponsor the tournament and also subject to the approval of the finance committee was withdrawn. The motion kept getting expanded as the discussion proceeded. Finally it appeared to the aldermen the proposed action might not be legal since admission will be charged.

Menasha — Despite heavy holiday traffic city police reported only two accidents. Both involved only property damage.

Council Gives Grove Area To Park Board

Excludes School Site From Land To Be Developed

Menasha — The council Tuesday night turned over to the park board the 21 acres received from the late Alva Grove, excluding the Clovis-Grove school site.

The park department will clear the land and set up a program for development of that area into a park, including a playground and tennis courts as part of future planning.

City Engineer Melvin Noth said the street department is always looking for an area to stockpile top soil removed from areas where streets are opened. He thought it would be advantageous to stockpile in an area to be developed last.

He also thought some attention should be given in the planning for the storm water drainage of the area.

A meeting of the council and the water and light commission will be held within the next 30 days or two weeks at the request of the utility commission, the council decided. The commission wants to learn from the council what will be needed to expand water service into the town of Menasha areas north of the city.

4th Ward Storm Sewer

Aid. Lou Gammey asked about the progress being made on the Fourth ward storm sewer, indicating he hoped bids could at least be taken by September or October.

Mayor Klein replied that progress is being made and a meeting with the engineering company has been set for later this week. The people along Melissa street have given permission to allow the route through their back yards, he mentioned.

Referred to the finance committee was the payment of witness fees to policemen. Should these go to the pension fund as before or should they go to the policeman if he has to be called in while off duty?

The city attorney said several policemen had inquired about it and that he had checked with other cities and learned that off-duty policemen are paid the fees for coming back for trials while an on-duty policeman does not receive his fee.

Railroad Crossings

Aid. Edward Stinski called attention to street committee minutes about the repair of railroad crossings and said the railroads hadn't paid for the last crossings that had been fixed.

Aid. Fred Block said the Second and Third street crossings were in need of repairs and Aid Robert Mielke said that if something is not done soon, it will be too late to get the bad holes fixed this year.

The council voted to send a letter of appreciation to Robert Farrell for his services as a school board member for six years.

will have to hold it illegal to give public funds for private purposes.

"Kaukauna got around it with a Veterans of Foreign Wars program by having it jointly sponsored by the VFW and the city. It can be legally done by having the tournament jointly run by the park board and the Macs. It would be in order to have it subject to the approval of the park board to jointly sponsor the tournament."

Aid. Fred Block thought it would be setting a precedent since there may be a lot of organizations coming in on such an arrangement.

Steffens then said it could be done for organizations if no admission fee was charged.

Mayor Klein pointed out the money received goes back into sports.

"Others Had to Pay"

Aid. Mielke commented that "others had to pay such as for basketball and baseball tournaments" and Aid. William Zeininger wanted to know who was going to oversee the tournament if city money were put into it.

Mayor Klein repeated that the park board had not paid for the lights installed by the Macs or for heating the water for the showers.

The city attorney reminded the tournament could not be run for a profit if it is jointly run for the city.

After the motion was withdrawn, Aid. Lou Gammey remarked that other cities were doing it and he shrugged his shoulders in a questioning gesture as he called Menasha a "baseball center."

"If the law says 'No,' it's 'No,'" Aid. Mielke stressed.

Increased 50 Times

In the last 30 years research in the United States has grown from $200 million to $10 billion a year in cost, an increase of 50 times. Shipman told the Rotarians. The gross national product in those same years has grown between two and three times, from $175 billion to about $450 billion.

"As you can see, the proportion of our gross national product which we as a nation are devoting to research is changing very rapidly," he cited.

It has been said that any industry or company does research so that "we will know what to do when we no longer can do what we are doing," Shipman offered.

Strike Averted At Chilton Metal Company

New Offer Made; Union Approval Needed for Adoption

Chilton — The possibility of a walkout at Chilton Metal Products company, Inc., has been temporarily averted while a new company offer is being considered.

Terms of the new offer, made Tuesday morning during a last ditch negotiation effort, were not disclosed. The offer will be presented to the some 160 members of local lodge 2185, International Association of Machinists, AFL-CIO, at 3:45 p.m. Thursday at the Eagles' hall here, according to William Madson, business representative for District 150 of the machinists. Acceptance or rejection of the new offer requires approval of the general membership.

An earlier company offer called for a 4-cent an hour increase annually for three years, the duration of the proposed contract. The union has been holding out for an immediate 30-cent an hour hike and an 18-month contract.

A strike sanction was authorized at an early June meeting and a strike vote cast last week when negotiations bogged down. The workers, however, will remain at their jobs despite the July 2 expiration of the old 18-month pact signed in November of 1953.

Oshkosh Company Participates in California Drills

Coronado, Calif.—Oshkosh's 95th Marine corps Reserve Rifle company completed two weeks of intensive training with the landing force training unit here recently.

The rugged terrain around Murphy canyon, about 30 miles north of San Diego, was the scene of a full scale ground and air attack in the final stages of the summer training period. Other phases included amphibious training with a ship-to-shore beach assault after spending a night aboard the USS Calvert.

Companies Combine

Companies from Minnesota and California combined for the ground work in the Murphy canyon area. The assault was made against specially trained "aggressors" provided by the Landing Force Training unit.

With the use of helicopters the reservists were able to "overrun" the enemy and take command of the entire area.

After a critique of the field problem, the reserve companies were transported to Shepherd canyon where they witnessed a firing demonstration of rocket launchers and had his license suspended by Police Justice Arors from the Marine corps recruit depot at San Diego.

Sunbrellas Take Look of Monet Pastels

BY DOROTHY ROE
AP Woman's Editor

Romance gets the nod from milliners this summer. The big, flattering, mysterious hat is back with a bang, designed to protect delicate ladies from the summer sun, and called, by unanimous vote of the country's leading hat designers, "Sunbrellas."

This is a switchback to the days when lovely ladies carried parasols in the summertime, and prided themselves on keeping their skin white and delicate instead of baking for hours to acquire a suntan.

It seems the pale look is much to be desired this summer, with six custom milliners in on the plot — Lilly Dache, Hattie Carnegie, Emme, Sally Victor, Mr. John and Mr. Arnold.

These designers feel we have had enough of the sun-worshippers' complexions, and propose to provide their customers with protective devices against the leathery look.

Fragile Look
This season it's smart to look fragile, says the milliners, and their new shady hats are planned for the purpose. Most of them are high-crowned, with big drooping brims that are flattering as well as functional.

There are those who say the new vogue started with the current fabulously popular Monet exhibit at New York's Museum of Modern Art, where pale pastels assert their beauty. So both hats and makeup take on a "Monet pastel" tone. Most popular colors in the new big hats are bright turquoise and lilac, to accentuate the fair-skinned Homemakers club last Thursday. Mrs. Milo Gullickson, Oshkosh, was a guest. The next meeting will be held July 28 at the home of Mrs. Orta Devens on Lake Butte des Morts.

Plan Indian Theme For Shut-in Picnic

Neenah — A total of 105 invitations were mailed to Twin City handicapped persons and shut-ins this week inviting them to an "ahiti pow-wow" to be held July 16 at Riverside park.

Translated, "ahiti pow-wow" means "heap-big pow-wow" and is part of the Indian theme being used for this year's picnic.

In preliminary flyers sent this year's picnic, annually several weeks ago, guests sponsored by the Easter Seal were advised to "kuhruri sinka" which in Indian language means "watch for Riverside pavilion at 12.30 smoke signals." These signals were interpreted for be followed by games and a them in the invitations.

Foxes Dealt Second Loss In Row, 5-3

Unearned Runs Help Green Bay Win; Fox Cities' Lead Shaved

BY MIKE DREW
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Fox Cities shortstop Bob Saverine made three of his usual fine plays during Tuesday evening's game with Green Bay at Goodland field. But a play Saverine didn't make helped Green Bay score two unearned runs in a 4-run fourth inning on its way to a 5-3 victory.

The loss was Fox Cities' second in a row to the Dodgers after wins in the club's first eight meetings. It was the first time the losers had dropped two games in a row since Sioux City and Des Moines turned the trick June 18 and 19.

Runnerup Sioux City was rained out, so the Foxes' Three - 1 league lead dropped to four games.

The Foxes and Dodgers wind up the Green Bay portion of their 6-game, 2-city series tonight at Joannes park. Left-hander Terry Barber (3-4) will oppose Fox right - hander Dean Chance (5-3).

Pete Ward, whose sensation al hitting during June helped lift the Fox Cities Foxes into first place, has been named winner of the Three-I league's second "player of the month" award. (Sioux City's Bud Spiers won the honors for May).

Ward walloped the ball at a .407 pace for the 32 games played in June and batted in 33 runs in that span. (For the season, he is hitting .385.)

The 20-year old third baseman (he'll be 21 on July 26) is playing his second full season of pro ball. Last year Ward batted .321 for Stockton in the Class C California league.

The 6-foot, 190-pound left-handed hitter will receive, as an award, a gold watch. The presentation will be made on a forthcoming home stand.

Ward drew five of the eight votes in league balloting. Des Moines' Jerry Reimer got two and the Foxes' Ray Youngdahl, one.

The Los Angeles Dodgers looked good in walloping San Francisco, 8-0, Wednesday night but pulled a Dodger stunt from the days of old in doing it. Giant catcher Bob Schmidt, left, races to third to find two Dodgers there. Charlie Neal (43) had tried to score from third on Tommy Davis' infield grounder but when Schmidt ran back to third Frank Howard was there too. Howard, who had been on second, was ruled out. After dropping only eight of 30 games in June, the Yanks now have lost two of five in July. That's not exactly a total collapse, but both losses were to the sixth-place Senators and they now lead second-place Cleveland, 10-10 Tuesday, by just one game.

They're also just two lengths ahead of the third-place Baltimore Orioles—who rapped Boston 9-4 in the only other game scheduled in the AL—going into the opener of a 2-game set at Baltimore tonight. The Indians play six games in five days with Chicago.

Masters and Gregg Sign Fourth Pacts

Green Bay — P— Offensive tackles Forrest Gregg and Norm Masters have signed 1960 contracts with the Green Bay Packers, the National Football league club announced today.

Gregg, who will be back for his fourth season, was named to the second team All-NFL squad last season.

Masters, acquired by the Packers in a trade, also will be starting his fourth season.

With the signing of Gregg and Masters, the Packers have all of their offensive tackles under contract. Veteran Bob Skoronski and twelfth draft choice Harry Ball of Boston college were signed earlier.

Pittsburgh Thrives on Extra-Inning Pressure

BY DAVE O'HARA

Milwaukee — P — These high-riding Pittsburgh Pirates are thriving on pressure—especially the extra-inning variety.

The Pirates pulled through another squeaker and boosted their National league lead to 4½ games by edging the runnerup Milwaukee Braves, 5-4 Tuesday night in 10 innings.

"These tight ones don't bother us a bit," Manager Danny Murtaugh said as his men were around. "If you do, Pittsburgh charges in. It's a good way to waste the clubhouse. We've been in per-

Sarazen Leads U. S. Qualifiers In British Open

Palmer Begins Quest of Third Big Golf Prize

St. Andrews, Scotland—P

Gene Sarazen, the old master who has spanned four decades of championship golf said today that a grand slam by Arnold Palmer would be superior even to that of the legendary Bobby Jones.

Palmer with the American Open and Masters titles already under his belt, today started shooting for the third big one — the 72-hole British Open championship.

"If Palmer can win this one," said Sarazen, 58, "then he can go home and try to complete the slam by winning the American PGA."

More Golfers

"I reckon such a slam would be better than that of Jones in 1930."

That was the year Jones won the American Amateur and Open and British Amateur and Open.

Sarazen said there are many more people playing golf these days, the competition is stiffer and there has been a terrific general improvement in the game.

"That's why I think Palmer is shooting for the greatest grand slam in golfing history," he said.

The old master said that

Joltin' Joe Adcock Thrives On Fast Pitches, Tenderay Steaks

Joe Adcock is ready to step up to the plate with a Tenderay steak. Watching him warm up at the grill are his wife, Joan, son, Jay, 2, and daughter, Jan, 1.

Championship Drag Races Start Friday

The 1960 national championship drag races will be held at the Great Lakes dragway, Union Grove (20 miles south of Milwaukee), off Highway 45) Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Several hundred entries, including some past and current world record holders, will compete in the races sanctioned by the National Association of Dragstrips.

Time trials will be held Friday afternoon and evening, with speed runs in all classes set for 2 p.m. Saturday. Stock cars will make their trophy runs Saturday night.

Trophy runs of all "hot machine" classes, including the runs of the 12 fastest machines, will be held Sunday afternoon and night.

The machines to beat in the A-fuel dragster division are the Garlits-Malone "Swamp Rat" and the world record-holding "The Chizler," piloted by Chris Karamesines, of

This is the "Green Monster," which will be in action this weekend in the National championship drag races at the Union Grove dragway. The machine has a 3,000-horsepower aircraft engine.

The Pete Treiber team bounced the Al Vandenberg, 79-50, in an Appleton Recreation department Senior Boys' Basketball league game. Paul Vander Heyden and Treiber tallied 20 points each for the winners. Cal Kluess led the losers with 18.

Dick Rankin defeated Marty Schultz, by forfeit. Chicago. They are the only dragsters ever to break the 1200-mile-a-hour barrier in a quarter mile run.

Another machine to appear will be the "Green Monster," which is powered by a 3,000-horsepower Allison aircraft engine. Owner-driver Art Arfons, Akron, Ohio, plans to make use of a parachute as a slow-down device so he can cushion world's fastest gas-burning still play with the amateurs.

Newark Little League Baseball Team Is Taken to Cleaners

Newark, N.J. —P— A Little League baseball team reports it has been taken to the cleaners.

Abe Guritzky, of the Chancellor avenue playground youth council, said Tuesday the playground's team uniforms — all 140 — had been given to a laundry truck at the field. The truck hasn't been seen since.

Guritzky said the laundry wasn't authorized. The custodian failed to get a receipt and can't remember the laundry's name. Guritzky said the suits, usually cleaned at season's end in June, were worth $2,000.

when he won both the British and American Opens in 1932 it was worth about $10,000.

"I think a grand slam by Palmer would be worth something like $250,000 to him," Sarazen said.

Sarazen led the American qualifiers and said he was hitting the ball so well "I'm fearful I might get into the last 50 for the 36 holes Friday. The old legs won't stand that."

A total of 74 players — the lowest since the present qualifying play was introduced after World War II — went out today.

Palmer, Sarazen, Bill Johnson, from Provo, Utah, and Jack Isaacs, Langley Field, Va., were the only American survivors from an original entry of 21.

Palmer had trouble Tuesday on blasty St. Andrews. He shot a 75 which with his 67 of Monday gave him a qualifying total of 142.

Gary Player, the defending British Open champion from South Africa, added a 68 to his previous 67 for 135 and medalist honors.

Brisk winds and rain lashed the historic course, making for a rugged test of golfing skill.

Sarazen, making his first visit here since 1933 when he missed the championship by a stroke, shot a 72 for a total of 141.

Dodgers Hand Foxes Second Loss in Row

from the same cloth as short stop Roy Smalley (formerly of the Cubs) and "Zorro" Veras (of the 1959 Foxes). All can look brilliant on the tough chance but have trouble with balls hit right at them.

After making fine plays to throw out Smith in the second and Paul Ortega in the fourth, $72,000 bonus 19-year-old Saverne turned in the play of the night in the sixth. He raced deep into the hole on Dick Bogard's catcher, backhanded the ball and tossed him out. That retired the side with two men in scoring position.

The speedballing Ortega (56) got the victory though he needed help from Ken Page in the first Fox Outing. Ortega allowed seven hits, struck out 11 and walked five. He hit Charley Johnson three times, each after getting two strikes on him, and Ray Youngdahl once.

The loser was starter Dick Hunt (12) who yielded four runs (two earned) on eight hits and two walks in the first six frames. Newcomer Bob Cooper hurled the seventh and eighth. He gave up a run on two hits and three passes, fanning two.

Appearing in his third straight game his fourth in the Foxes last five and his twenty-sixth of the season, reliable reliever Jim Lechow hurled a scoreless ninth. Jim who has the knack of working just hard enough to get his man out, retired the side on six pitches.

Socks 3 Hits
Pete Ward, the league's player of the month for June, socked three hits in five trips to boost his batting average to a soaring .385. No other Fox got more than one hit.

Attendance on a pleasant baseball night was a disappointing 463. Thursday evening is the last chance in almost two weeks for fans to see the league leaders at Goodland field.

Ortega led off the Dodger fourth with a triple to right field and he came home on Don Williams' single to left. After two outs, Gus Sannicini singled to left, scoring Williams from third. Carrasquel reached base on Saverne's error and then Smith came through.

Fox Cities scored its first run in the sixth. A walk to Youngdahl and singles by Johnson and Jim Carver loaded the bases. Youngdahl roared home on Gene Conaway's passed ball.

Ripken Fans
But, pinch-hitter Cal Ripken fanned and Frank Montgomery flew out to start a 3-inning string in which the hosts stranded seven runners, while scoring a run in an inning. All told, the Three-I leaders left 15 men on base.

Carrasquel's double, a passed ball and Smith's base hit made it 5-1 Green Bay in the top of the seventh.

Ward singled and "Pho" Anthony walked in the last of the seventh and Youngdahl was hit by Ortega to lead the bases. Johnson was struck for the third time, forcing in a run, out Carver flew out.

The Foxes added their final run in the eighth. Manager Earl Weaver, pinch-hitting for Cooper, walked. He went to second on Saverne's single to left, which chased Ortega. Then Ward singled to right and Weaver raced in from second, disregarding a "hold-up" sign by substitute third base coach Arne Thorland.

But Anthony popped out and Powell flew out.

FOX TALKS: League President Vero Hoschett took in the game and was to be in Green Bay today to discuss the distressing financial situation there. . . Ortega had a 6-8 record for class AAA Spokane of the Pacific Coast league last season. . . Green Bay got him about six weeks ago. . . The Dodgers' two first basemen, had no outings in the game and Green Bay totaled only two assists.

Public Relief Rises Even as Caseload Drops

Higher Living Costs
Push Monthly Bill
Toward $2 Million

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—At a time when almost every standard index shows peak or near-peak economic activity in Wisconsin, public relief payments are edging toward $6,000,000 a month.

Current increases in costs are due largely to higher living costs. A tendency for a gradual reduction in caseloads has been evident for months.

The Department of Public Welfare reported Thursday that general relief was provided to 7.2 per cent fewer persons during May than in the same month a year ago, but the total paid out was about the same.

The department allotted $89,622 to 25,332 persons on relief during May.

Most Unemployable
Most of the recipients are unemployable. The traditionally largest program, for example, that providing aid to the elderly indigent, has lately been over-taken by the program of aid to dependent children, involving payments to families where the father is absent, disabled, deceased or otherwise unable to care for mother and children.

There are now 35,000 Wisconsin persons being supported under the children's aid program, against 34,000 under old age assistance, and about 25,000 under the direct relief category which is usually the barometer of unemployment trends in the state.

The average old age assistance grant is now $36.27 for the state as a whole.

Disabled Program
A significant disclosure is the swelling of the caseload and the costs of aid for the disabled program, as a result of new legislation adopted a few months ago liberalizing the terms of eligibility.

The difference in cost is largely represented by federal money grants. Currently, numbers of persons aided are up 137 per cent from a year ago, and the amount of individual grant has doubled since last year.

Aid to totally and permanently disabled persons in May totaled $329,529, more than double the 1959 level. This was partially the result of a new law extending the aid to about 1,500 additional persons.

The department paid $2,960,000 in old age assistance, $1,707,129 in aid to dependent children and $82,736 to 960 blind persons. The amount paid as aid to the blind is 3.2 per cent under the allotment in May 1959.

3-I League Votes Against Split Season

The Three - I baseball league has decided not to split its 1960 pennant race. The Green Bay Dodgers, sagging both at the gate and in the standings (last place) after a pennant year in 1959, sought the split to boost prospects for better attendance in the second round.

Three-I league President Vern Hoscheit polled the circuit's eight member clubs. He announced the decision from Green Bay this morning where he is meeting with Dodger President Jack Koeppler.

Koeppler has said the team will definitely remain in Green Bay for the rest of the season. A board of directors meeting tonight will discuss intensified promotion.

858 in old age assistance, $1,707,129 in aid to dependent children and $82,736 to 960 blind persons. The amount paid as aid to the blind is 3.2 per cent under the allotment in May 1959.

Total assistance during the month amounted to $5,971,874.

Thinning Blood Slows Up Its Original Clotting Time

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

Today's letter brings up a question — thinning the blood — that is causing more concern than it should.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have an enlarged heart, but am in pretty good health. I have a yearly check-up from my doctor."

"I have been taking plain gelatin each day for over a year because my fingernails were brittle. My protein, which is most plentiful in lean meat, fish, eggs, thickened or thin blood, and to a lesser extent keep on taking gelatin. In fact, in our family we eat gelatin generously every day as aspic salad or with fruit.

"My question is: Would this gelatin thicken my blood in case of a heart attack? I have spoken to people who have had heart attacks who said their blood had to be thinned to flow freely and not clot."

Has Protein
First, gelatin — the dry powder form — is a concentrate of certain forms of protein. I definitely don't mean that it can replace all forms of protein. Your diet should also include a good deal of better one. And yet, to be fingered, which is most plentiful in lean meat, fish, eggs, thickened or thin blood, and to a lesser extent keep on taking gelatin. In fact, in our family we eat gelatin for them. But it does add, as I said, certain forms of protein. That is why, in many cases, taking it regularly may help to overcome brittle or weak nails. It helps some people more than others.

Gelatin does not thicken the blood. Neither does a cheese sandwich, an egg, a lamb chop, or anything else you eat. You digest these foods. They don't get into the blood. The blood had to be thinned to flow freely and not clot.

Explains Term
Now about thinning the blood in a way, that's a fair enough expression. I can't think of a better one. And yet, to be fingered, which is most plentiful in lean meat, fish, eggs, thickened or thin blood, and to a lesser extent keep on taking gelatin. In fact, in our family we eat gelatin blood clot that has lodged in some narrow part of the coronary artery, the one that feeds the heart muscle. Drugs used to thin the blood tend to prevent clots from forming. The blood itself remains sufficiently close to its original consistency, but it doesn't have its ability to form clots at times.

That means, of course, that if you cut your finger, it will take longer for it to stop bleeding, because the clotting operation is more difficult. Effect of Wine
Note to Mrs. R. W.: No, wine other wounds than it is to take in that sense has nothing to do with high blood pressure. However, both wine and beer read about transplanting the husband thereby adds to his cornea of the eye. How successful are these operations on his blood pressure problem? If an operation fails, is a second one possible? — P. L."

Quiet Halls

Largest AHS Summer Class

BY NAN HENNING
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The halls are quiet, no bells ring every 55 minutes and voices are not raised as students laugh and shout. The water bubbling quietly in the fountains and the occasional clatter of a secretary's high heels are the only sounds echoing down the empty hallways.

It's summer at Appleton High school and the building is quiet without 1,756 students scheduled on the first floor or passing through the halls to west side of the building.

Their next classes seven times where it's coolest in the morning. Herbert H. Helble, principal, said. Classes are out before the heat of the day and five days a week, the building because attendance is voluntary picks up some of its regular school noises when 724 students and nine teachers attend summer school. This is the largest number to participate in the session during its 14-year history.

Most of the classes are mer," Helble said. "Prospective college students want to typing, music and art. Some of them want to fulfill their requirements in beginning algebra or plain geometry so they'll have time for other subjects in the fall.

"Without the pressures of extra curricular activities in the afternoons and evenings, students have more time for their studies."

The largest classes are orchestra, 107, and band, 322, taught by Antony Bacich and Frank Comella. Three separate bands and orchestras—elementary, junior high and senior high—meet two hours once a week. Music students have individual or ensemble lessons twice a week.

Typing is the largest class, room subject with an enrollment of 142. Half meet from 8 to 10 a.m. while the others come in 10 a.m. to noon. Herbert Simon and John Graff teach both classes.

Sculpture in Art Class

While reading and writing are not taught during the summer, arithmetic is and 60 students are divided equally between a beginning algebra class taught by Mrs. Floyd Boettcher and plain geometry with Mrs. Emily Borchardt.

Art classes have attracted 61 students who paint, draw and sculpture under the guidance of Michael Brandt and Phil Homes. Thirty-two students are making up ninth grade English and/or social studies in a class directed by Delmar Schuh.

The summer session ends July 29, but the building will be used the rest of the summer by a 4-week typing class for 166 eighth graders beginning Aug. 1. When they leave Aug. 26, teachers will start their orientation training Aug. 31 and school opens after Labor day.

New Veteran's Pension Law Increases Payments, Incomes

The new veterans' pension law went into effect last week. The veterans administration said the new law increases both the maximum pension payments and the amount of permissible income from other sources and provides a sliding scale of payments based on need. At the same time, it provides for counting part of the wife's income as the veteran's and for considering the net worth of the applicant.

The new law also puts pension eligibility requirements for widows and orphans of World War II and Korean conflict veterans on the same eligibility basis as those of World War I.

Veterans and their dependents already on the pension rolls are allowed either to remain under the previous law or to elect to come under the new law.

Pension is paid only in cases of veterans whose disabilities have no connection with their actual military service. Payments to veterans and their dependents for service-connected disabilities are called "compensation" and are not affected by the pension laws.

Widows Pay

Under the new law, single veterans with annual income not exceeding $1,800 who are permanently and totally disabled may be paid pension at a monthly rate ranging from $40 to $85. Similarly, disabled veterans who have dependents can draw from $45 to $100 per month, and have maximum income limitation of $3,000. $70 will be added if the veteran requires constant aid and attendance.

Widows may be paid from $25 to $60 a month, and the

The new veterans' pension rate increases to $40 to $75 per month with one child. An extra monthly payment of $15 is allowed for each child. The maximum income limitation for a widow alone is $1,800 and for a widow with children is $3,000.

Under the old pension system veterans whether single or not, were paid a flat rate of $66.15. This was increased to $78.75 per month after 10 years or when the applicant reached 65. Income limitations were $1,400 a year for single veterans, and $2,700 for veterans with dependents. A payment of $135.45 was allowed a veteran needing constant aid and attendance.

The old law provided flat payments of $50.40 for widow alone, $63.00 for a widow with one child and $7.56 for each additional child.

Ex-Arena Manager Denies Charges

Preliminary Hearings Set for July 29 for Braleys, Doan

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — Jack B. Braley, former manager of the Brown County Veterans Memorial arena, pleaded not guilty to a charge of theft of Brown County funds and asked preliminary hearing on 17 other charges in municipal court this morning.

Braley was arraigned on 18 counts of theft of county funds through false presentment and Lorne E. Doan, acting manager of the arena, pleaded not guilty to one theft of county funds.

The counts all were recommended by Municipal Judge Donald W. Gleason in his decision Tuesday on John Doan's indictment into arena operations. Warrants for the arrest of both Braley and Doan were issued Tuesday afternoon.

The other Braley arena manager from 1958 until he was fired by the county board last week, will have a preliminary hearing July 29 on four counts of theft and 13 of misconduct in public office. His trial on the 18th count, a charge of $50 theft does not require a preliminary hearing. This trial also was set for July 29, following a plea of innocent.

No Pleas on Counts

Braley did not enter pleas on the 17 counts, pending outcome of the preliminary hearing.

The younger Braley's trial on 10 counts of theft, for wage payments for time he allegedly did not work at the arena, was also set for July 29.

Doan charged with $50 theft in an arena rental fee, will face trial July 26 at 9 a.m.

The Braleys were represented in court by Attys. J. Robert Kaftan and Harry Olson, but Doan appeared without an attorney. Judge Gleason fixed Jack Braley's bond at $5,000 and Richard's at $200. Sureties for their bonds are Jim Mancini and A. J. (Red) Paynter both officials of Green Bay Hockey, Inc., which owns the Bobcats hockey team which plays at the arena.

$200 Bond For Doan

Sureties for bond of $200 for Doan were listed as Orville J. Hubert and Alvin P. Oswald both movie theater projectionists. Doan is a former employee of the Bay theater.

Both $50 rental fees allegedly stolen by Braley and Doan were paid by a Green Bay industrial concern for use of the arena memorial room for meetings, but no record of the cash deposits was found by a state auditor. The auditor's report led to the John Doe hearing.

None of the defendants made statements in court this morning. About 25 were present for the arrangements.

The status of Doan, who was named acting arena manager after Braley was fired, may be decided by the county board's arena committee at a special session tonight. Doan has been on the arena staff since it opened, first as building superintendent and then as assistant manager.

Four Deny Topsy Driving

Arrested During Weekend by State, County Police

Innocent pleas to drunken driving charges were entered by four Fox Cities area drivers when they appeared before Judge Oscar J. Schmiede in municipal court Tuesday.

John F. Dorn, 32, route 2, Black Creek, was arrested at 11:40 p.m. Friday on Highway 47, two miles south of Black Creek after a county policeman said he noticed Dorn cut off a car while passing and was driving erratically.

Police said Dorn resisted getting into the squad car and was unable to take a drunkometer test. He posted a bond of $168.95 for trial July 27.

Refused Test

Orin J. Heinzl, 50, of 1606 N. Superior street, was arrested at 10:55 p.m. Sunday on Highway 10, two miles west of Highway 76 when a state patrolman saw him driving erratically. Heinzl did not take the drunkometer test and posted a bond of $143.95 for trial Aug. 29.

Edward J. McCarthy, 31, who gave his address as 5 Memorial drive, Appleton, was arrested by the state patrol at 5:50 p.m. Saturday after a patrolman saw him driving erratically on Highway 41, a half-mile north of County Trunk BB. He refused a drunkometer test and posted a bond of $118.95 for trial Aug. 29.

Arthur F. Smith, 27, Bear Creek, was arrested by a county policeman at 10:56 p.m. Friday after his car went in a ditch on County Trunk M just north of the Wolf river bridge in the town of Liberty. He refused to take the drunkometer test and posted a bond of $118.95 for trial July 14.

Two Appleton Men Fined for Drunkenness

Two Appleton men were fined for drunkenness when they were arraigned in municipal court Tuesday.

Adolph Ristau, 62, of 810 S. Mason street, was fined $50. He was arrested July 1 on W. College avenue.

Edwin T. O'Connor, 42, of 1618 W. Spencer street, was fined $25. He was arrested Sunday at a downtown hotel.

Man Fined $100 for Disorderly Conduct

Kenneth Barth, 27, of 727 E. Lincoln avenue, Little Chute, was fined $100 today by Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiede after Barth pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct.

He was arrested Monday at his home after he caused a disturbance and threatened his wife, police said.

Trio's Arrest May Solve Local Thefts

The arrest of three men in Sheboygan last month may provide the answer to a series of unsolved breakins in Outagamie, Calumet and Winnebago counties, Outagamie County Sheriff Robert Heinritz said today.

The men have admitted at least 21 burglaries in nine counties with the total loot $3,540.

Heinritz said Lt. Jack Zuelzke is in Sheboygan questioning the men today.

The trio is known to have admitted a breakin at the Center Valley Co-op on March 19 this year.

In custody in Sheboygan are Marshall Goyer, 34, and his brother, Clayton, 37, and James Schmidt, 25, all of Fond du Lac.

The men already have been implicated in breakins in the town of Menasha. These were March 23 at Acheson and Springstroh and twice, March 11, 1960, and Dec. 3, 1959, at the Home Lumber office on Highway 41. About $183 was taken in one theft at the lumber office and about $600 in cash and checks taken in the other breakin. Gun powder and primer caps were taken in the March 23 thefts.

They have also been implicated in breakins last winter at the New Holstein High school, the A. A. Laun Lumber company, New Holstein and the Coop Oil service, Chilton.

Man and Boy Die When Dugout Canoe Tips in Little Lake

Post-Crescent News Service

Suring — A man and a boy from the Menominee Indian reservation drowned Tuesday afternoon when their dugout canoe upset in Little Lake about 10 miles northwest of Suring.

The victims were Russell Heath, 51, and Edward Long, Jr., 11. Edward's father managed to hang on to the boat to reach shore safely.

The elder Long said they had been fishing on the lake, and suddenly all three were in the water. That was about 1 p.m. It was nearly 3 p.m. when the drownings were reported to Sheriff Robert Schoenebeck's office at Oconto.

Bodies Recovered

Dragging operations were begun by Schoenebeck with the assistance of Coroner Clarence McMahon, Bruce Wilbur, chief of the reservation police, and Oliver Bogsted, Suring.

The boy's body was recovered at about 5 p.m. by McMahon and Bogsted. Orville Peters, a resident of the reservation located and brought up Heath's body shortly after 6 p.m.

Council Sells Bonds Tonight

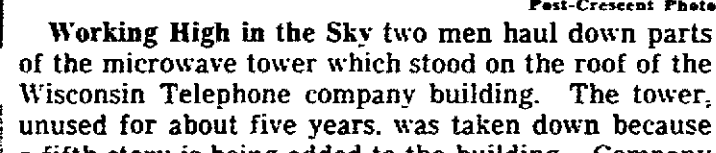

Smith-Barney and company, Chicago, is the low bidder on $1,925,000 in Appleton city bonds.

The firm was one of six to submit bids, opened by the board of public works Tuesday.

The board will recommend that its bid be accepted to night when the bonds are officially sold at the council meeting.

Smith-Barney will buy the

Bon Voyage, Charlie

Ceremonies Set for Tour Take-Off Sunday

Special "bon voyage" ceremonies at Outagamie County airport at 12:35 and 1:01 p.m. Sunday will mark the official opening of one of the most extensive newspaper tours ever undertaken in this area.

Charlie House and 81 companions will wing their way to majestic Europe for a 23-day holiday with stops in nine countries and many side trips to some of the most scenic and historic cities in the world.

Because so many people are going along, and because the holiday is being sponsored by both the Appleton Post-Crescent and the Green Bay Press-Gazette, there will be four initial flights—two from Appleton and another two from Green Bay.

Join at Milwaukee

The two city groups will join at Milwaukee for a non-stop pleasure cruise to New York's Idlewild airport, where they will board a Scandinavian airlines DC-8 jet.

About about midnight Sunday, the tourists will take off from the United States for a pleasant, almost soundless, flight to Copenhagen. They will land in the country of white beaches and poetic fields at about 7 a.m. Monday.

Hundreds of rolls of film are expected to be shot by the enthusiastic voyagers as they trek through the planned itinerary.

Readers Go, Too

Among the thousands of pictures sure to be taken will be hundreds by the Post-Crescent's specialist and tour host Charlie House.

The pictures he takes and the scenes he sees will be offered Post-Crescent readers throughout the tour. Special arrangements have been completed in Europe for the filing of House pictures and stories to the United States. Readers therefore will be able to take the European tour too, if only vicariously.

Recognizing literally dozens of requests by readers, the newspapers also will establish a slight precedent for a Charlie House adventure.

Accompanying him as the guest of the two newspapers will be Mrs. House, who year after year has "waited at home" for the wandering chronicler as he set off on some new fact-finding adventure.

A list of the names of deceased persons is carried today in the new vital statistics column. The column and obituaries may be found on Pages B15-16.

Break Ground Thursday for Peabody Manor

5 Past Presidents To Wield Shovels During Ceremony

A brief groundbreaking ceremony at 5 p.m. Thursday on the S. Locust street site year ago, when the city signed a contract to join the regional planning commission.

It has since been mentioned in a proposed 5-year plan by Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings and by Mayor Clarence Mitchell in his state of the city address.

Advocates of the office say a combined planner-engineer would effectively link two closely related phases of work.

Some community leaders have also said such a combined office would be more valuable to Appleton's orderly growth than membership in the regional planning commission.

Low bidders were Dick Oudenhoven Construction, Kaukauna, general construction; R. Selig and Sons, Appleton, plumbing; August Winter and Sons, Appleton, heating and ventilating; Up-town Electric, Waupaca, electrical, and Northwestern Elevator, Milwaukee, elevator. The bids totaled about $388,156.

10 Take Part

Ten citizens will take part in the groundbreaking ceremony. The Rev. Carl E. Wilke, rector of All Saints Episcopal church, will give the opening and closing prayers. Attorney Alfred S. Bradford will represent the George drivers' licenses revoked for one year after being convicted of holiday weekend drunken driving.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell will represent the city of Appleton, which donated the land as a gift to the VNA; Carl J. Schroeder will represent the lay advisory committee of VNA and Dr. William Chandler the medical advisory committee of the organization.

The ground will be broken by five past presidents of VNA, each of whom served during the years the project was being planned and organized. They are Mrs. Harold A. Ornstein, 1956 president; Mrs. H. H. Helble, 1957; Mrs. Joseph Foley, 1958; Mrs. Eugene L. Pierce, 1959, and the current president, Mrs. Dexter L. Wolfe.

Driver Injured

Elwood R. Booher, 23, of 201 S. Telulah avenue, was injured about 4 a.m. today when the brakes on his car failed as he was turning into a driveway and the auto struck a tree. He received cuts on his chin and complained of chest injuries, police in court Tuesday. Justice Harold Hedtke reported.

Asks Creation Of Engineer, Planner Post

A resolution will be introduced at the council meeting tonight by Ald. Thomas Schneider, asking to create the office of city planner-traffic engineer.

He also asks funds to run the office be provided in the 1961 budget.

Schneider first proposed the combination position about a year ago, when the city signed a contract to join the regional planning commission.

It has since been mentioned in a proposed 5-year plan by Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings and by Mayor Clarence Mitchell in his state of the city address.

Thieves Try Breakins at 2 More Churches

Nothing Missing; Find New Clues in Methodist Theft

Attempted breakins at two more Appleton churches were reported today as detectives continued to sift clues in Sunday's safecracking at the First Methodist church.

The Congregational church at Oneida and Lawrence streets and the Memorial Presbyterian church at College and Drew streets were the latest targets of thieves.

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the First Methodist church said the loot from the safecracking there may total as much as $1,000.

A brown canvas bag which contained Sunday school collections was found by the church janitor in a hedge in his back yard which is adjacent to the church property. Also found was a steel pry bar and a key ring. Detectives are attempting to determine if the last two objects are linked to the theft.

Safe Damaged

The Memorial Presbyterian church was entered sometime Monday night. A safe, kept F. Peabody estate, which is supplying about a third of the funds to build the home.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell will represent the city of Appleton, which donated the land as a gift to the VNA; Carl J. Schroeder will represent the lay advisory committee of VNA and Dr. William Chandler the medical advisory committee of the organization.

Grocery Cart Scheme Bilks 3 Supermarkets Out of $475

Three Appleton supermarkets have been bilked out of about $475 by a group of men working a confidence game based on the washing of grocery carts, police reported today.

The men obtained $247 from one market, $154 from another and $72 from a third.

The fraud scheme works this way, police said.

The men contract to wash grocery carts. After completing part of the job they inform the store manager that certain wheel bearings and bearing sleeves on the cart wheels are worn and need replacing.

As evidence of this, they present a pile of worn parts which they say they have removed from some of the carts they have washed and checked. They offer, then, to replace the parts at a certain price per part.

Investigation at one of the markets indicated the wheels had not been dismantled or repaired.

The scheme was discovered when a market manager became suspicious after he determined that his carts were only three years old and should not be in need of repair.

Utility Asks For Raise in Power Rates

Wisconsin-Michigan Wants Earnings At Authorized Level

Madison —UP— The Wisconsin-Michigan Power company, which serves the Fox Cities and 12 Wisconsin counties and parts of 11 counties in Upper Michigan, petitioned the state public service commission Tuesday for an electrical rate increase. The increase would not affect Menasha, which has a municipal power unit.

The firm, with headquarters in Milwaukee, made no specific request but indicated it wanted to bring earnings up to authorized level. The company would apportion the increase among wholesale and retail customers and set specific rates after receiving permission to raise rates.

A hearing on the request is scheduled for July 21 here.

An application in September, 1958, for an increase was rejected by the commission on April 22, 1960. The PSC then said the utility's revenues in Wisconsin and Michigan were deficient by $772,906 of affording adequate earnings, but said that losses could be offset through an adjustment of rates in Michigan.

In January, the Michigan PSC authorized an increase of $207,743 in rates there.

The power company's request for federal power commission authority to increase wholesale rates was turned down in September, 1959. The PSC said the Wisconsin PSC should act first to increase rates of other customers.

Pipeline Crews Fish Gear Out of Swamp

Canal Dug Near Weyauwega to Save Mired Heavy Equipment

BY RICHARD MCDANIEL
 Post-Crescent Staff Writer

New London — Several hundred thousand dollars worth of heavy equipment was tied up for about one week in the rescue operations of two back hoes and one heavy track tractor in the swamp near Weyauwega during the pipeline installation of the Houston Contracting company Houston, Texas.

Dick Silar, job superintendent, explained some of the other equipment was kept in operation for 24 hours a day in order to keep the work on schedule.

The last piece of equipment was taken from the swamp Tuesday afternoon.

Slipped From Mat
 The mishap occurred June 27 when two back hoes and the tractor slipped off a wooden mat laid in the swamp for transportation of the heavy equipment.

Instead of running another wooden mat road out to the equipment, the pipeline crews dug a wide canal about 1,500 feet long to the mired equipment. A pontoon was assembled and a large crane dug a hole in the swamp. When the hole was large enough and filled with water from the swamp, the crane moved on top of the pontoon and dug its way down to the equipment.

C. Y. Pearsons, the firm's master mechanic, was in charge of the operation. When the crane and pontoon reached the equipment one piece at a time was loaded on the pontoon and pulled by a cable back to dry land on the other end of the canal.

Tractor Used
 Another large tractor was used to pull the pontoon, crane and salvaged piece of equipment the full length of the canal.

Silar reported his firm has been confronted with many obstacles in the installation of pipe lines and the firm has the equipment and personnel to overcome them all.

The firm uses radio communication to consolidate the use of its equipment. If a problem arises in one sector, additional equipment is rushed to it to assure continued installations of the big pipe.

Appleton to Marshfield
 The line is being installed from Appleton to Marshfield. Other firms will be contracted to install the feeder lines to the various communities.

Silar said installations of the line are being tested outside of Appleton, while ditch digging operations are being continued further west with other crews in charge of setting out the pipe, welding the joints and treating the pipe and covering the ditch between the first and last stage.

Heavy Pieces of Equipment were needed to rescue other heavy pieces of equipment by the Houston Contracting company, Houston, Texas, when two back hoes and a heavy tractor were mired down in a swamp near Weyauwega. Pipeline workers dug a canal to the mired machinery and floated the equipment out on a big pontoon. The last pieces of equipment are shown arriving on the pontoon.
